CREATIVE ARTS • BASIC 5

Illustrated learning workbook

Visual Arts + Performing Arts | Explore • Make • Display • Appreciate

20 illustrated lessons · 5 Play and 10 Challenge questions for every lesson · practical teacher observation tasks

Learners explore ideas, make or compose a work, share it, and describe what they would improve. Videos are in the multimedia eBook and offline interactive course; their matching three-step visuals appear on the printed pages.

LESSON 01 • Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth

Visual Arts / Explore / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will notice how art can carry cultural meaning. You will create a motif study using a patterned fabric scrap, paper and crayons.

Do it in three steps

1. Look at a cloth pattern and point to its repeated marks.
2. Sketch two repeated shapes from the cloth onto paper. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Add one personal variation and explain what it represents.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a motif study; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Ask before touching another person’s cloth.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a labelled pattern sketch and shape and meaning. Also try this: compare the pattern with a friend’s observation.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. an earlier performance plan and feedback from classmates

B. hands, feet and a written beat grid

C. a patterned fabric scrap, paper and crayons

D. soft modelling clay or dough and a washable work mat

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. List three sounds heard in the chosen setting.

B. Mark four beat spaces with dots on paper.

C. Look at a cloth pattern and point to its repeated marks.

D. Choose finished works and give each a title label.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. a motif study

B. a body-percussion pattern

C. a performance showcase

D. a short dance composition

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. pattern

B. presentation

C. pulse

D. visual communication

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. a reasoned art observation

B. a labelled pattern sketch

C. a readable community poster

D. an over-under paper mat

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth”, what is the second step?

A. Record one strength in timing, expression or teamwork.

B. Place the works where viewers can see them without crowding.

C. Try three gestures that communicate the action without words.

D. Sketch two repeated shapes from the cloth onto paper. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth” activity?

A. Stick the pieces down and explain the main image.

B. Make the change and explain how the second version improved.

C. Add one personal variation and explain what it represents.

D. Suggest one useful change and say how to rehearse it.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

B. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

C. Ask before touching another person’s cloth.

D. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. notice how art can carry cultural meaning

B. explore repeated structure through weaving

C. shape a useful object from malleable material

D. connect the form of a useful object to its function

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. a person who is never shown the work

B. classmates

C. the materials supplier only

D. only the teacher’s desk

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. even walls and balance

B. shape and meaning

C. shape and function

D. timing and safe space

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. compare the rim before and after smoothing

B. ask a partner which colour is easiest to see

C. compare the pattern with a friend’s observation

D. swap roles between performer and audience

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth” at Basic 5?

A. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

B. only an unrelated non-African model

C. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

D. Ghanaian and other African artists

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a review that ignores the work entirely

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. a guess about pattern without checking the finished work

D. a labelled pattern sketch, supported by what you noticed or changed

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Find Stories in Cloth” work after feedback?

A. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

B. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

C. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

D. to improve shape and meaning

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 02 • Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat

Performing Arts / Explore / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will recognise pulse and respectful listening. You will create a rhythmic echo using hands, a soft drum or a safe plastic container.

Do it in three steps

1. Listen to a short local rhythm and count its pulses.
2. Echo the pulse by tapping softly four times. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Perform the pulse with a partner, starting and stopping together.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a rhythmic echo; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Keep the sound comfortable for nearby listeners.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a steady four-pulse performance and steady timing. Also try this: invite a partner to lead the next four beats.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. a short original dialogue and simple safe props

B. hands, a soft drum or a safe plastic container

C. a picture or safe sample of a clay pot, pencil and paper

D. a short community story and an open safe space

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. List three sounds heard in the chosen setting.

B. Observe the pot rim, body, base and any decoration.

C. Choose three colours that suit your chosen message.

D. Listen to a short local rhythm and count its pulses.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. a rhythmic echo

B. a pinch pot

C. a woven paper mat

D. a functional pot sketch

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. pulse

B. volume

C. pattern

D. appreciation

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. an annotated pot drawing

B. a steady four-pulse performance

C. an over-under paper mat

D. a stable pinched bowl

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat”, what is the second step?

A. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit.

B. Arrange pieces on cardboard before applying glue.

C. Practise lines with clear facial expression and turn-taking.

D. Echo the pulse by tapping softly four times. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat” activity?

A. Present the item and thank the audience at the end.

B. Give one evidence-based compliment and one possible improvement.

C. Perform the pulse with a partner, starting and stopping together.

D. Perform the pattern twice and check for a steady pulse.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

B. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

C. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

D. Keep the sound comfortable for nearby listeners.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. notice how art can carry cultural meaning

B. use voice, space and roles to tell a story

C. reuse materials while arranging an image

D. recognise pulse and respectful listening

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. listening group

B. a person who is never shown the work

C. the materials supplier only

D. only the teacher’s desk

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. steady timing

B. contrast and choice

C. even walls and balance

D. timing and safe space

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. compare narrow and wide pot openings

B. compare the rim before and after smoothing

C. invite a partner to lead the next four beats

D. let a second group test whether the response is easy to learn

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat” at Basic 5?

A. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

B. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

C. only an unrelated non-African model

D. Ghanaian and other African artists

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a steady four-pulse performance, supported by what you noticed or changed

B. a guess about pulse without checking the finished work

C. a review that ignores the work entirely

D. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Hear the Community Beat” work after feedback?

A. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

B. to improve steady timing

C. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

D. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 03 • Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot

Visual Arts / Explore / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will connect the form of a useful object to its function. You will create a functional pot sketch using a picture or safe sample of a clay pot, pencil and paper.

Do it in three steps

1. Observe the pot rim, body, base and any decoration.
2. Draw the outline using simple curved lines. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Add a label showing how the pot might be used.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a functional pot sketch; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Do not handle fragile or heavy pots without adult help.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for an annotated pot drawing and shape and function. Also try this: compare narrow and wide pot openings.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. crayons, scrap paper and a drawing sheet

B. voice, clapping and safe non-breakable sound makers

C. a picture or safe sample of a clay pot, pencil and paper

D. hands, feet and a written beat grid

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. Write or say a short call about caring for people or places.

B. Choose one clear message about a community need.

C. Look at a cloth pattern and point to its repeated marks.

D. Observe the pot rim, body, base and any decoration.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. a short drama scene

B. a functional pot sketch

C. a motif study

D. a recycled collage

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. call and response

B. gesture

C. drama

D. form

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. a call and its matching response

B. a repeatable dance phrase

C. a labelled and accessible classroom display

D. an annotated pot drawing

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”, what is the second step?

A. Sketch two repeated shapes from the cloth onto paper.

B. Draw the outline using simple curved lines. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

C. Place the works where viewers can see them without crowding.

D. Connect them with a pause and a change of direction.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot” activity?

A. Add a label showing how the pot might be used.

B. Guide visitors to observe one artwork and ask a respectful question.

C. Stick the pieces down and explain the main image.

D. Present the item and thank the audience at the end.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

B. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

C. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

D. Do not handle fragile or heavy pots without adult help.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. connect the form of a useful object to its function

B. recognise pulse and respectful listening

C. share artworks with an audience

D. present performance work as a team

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. only the teacher’s desk

B. the materials supplier only

C. study group

D. a person who is never shown the work

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. steady timing

B. clear turns

C. even walls and balance

D. shape and function

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. name one place you see a similar pattern in daily life

B. invite peers to guess the setting from the sounds

C. compare narrow and wide pot openings

D. ask a partner to clap the pattern from your grid

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot” at Basic 5?

A. only an unrelated non-African model

B. Ghanaian and other African artists

C. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

D. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

B. a review that ignores the work entirely

C. a guess about form without checking the finished work

D. an annotated pot drawing, supported by what you noticed or changed

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Draw a Useful Clay Pot” work after feedback?

A. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

B. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

C. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

D. to improve shape and function

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 04 • Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures

Performing Arts / Explore / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will communicate ideas through body movement. You will create a silent story using a short community story and an open safe space.

Do it in three steps

1. Choose a character and identify one important action.

2. Try three gestures that communicate the action without words. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

3. Show your gesture sequence while a friend identifies the story.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a silent story; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Use an open space and avoid pushing or sudden jumps.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a three-gesture story and expression and clarity. Also try this: swap roles between performer and audience.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. a short community story and an open safe space

B. hands, feet and a written beat grid

C. one displayed artwork and an observation note

D. a short original dialogue and simple safe props

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. Choose finished works and give each a title label.

B. Choose a character and identify one important action.

C. Choose two safe steps that suit the chosen rhythm.

D. Roll a smooth ball of soft material.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. a rhythmic echo

B. a mini exhibition

C. a performance showcase

D. a silent story

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. colour

B. rhythm

C. reflection

D. gesture

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. an over-under paper mat

B. a fixed paper collage

C. a three-gesture story

D. a labelled colour test

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures”, what is the second step?

A. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit.

B. Rehearse a concrete change as a group.

C. Try three gestures that communicate the action without words. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

D. Draw a bold image that supports the message.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures” activity?

A. Show your gesture sequence while a friend identifies the story.

B. Make the change and explain how the second version improved.

C. Perform the phrase twice with control and enough personal space.

D. Suggest one useful change and say how to rehearse it.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. Use an open space and avoid pushing or sudden jumps.

B. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

C. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

D. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. communicate ideas through body movement

B. represent a place through organised sounds

C. reuse materials while arranging an image

D. connect the form of a useful object to its function

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. only the teacher’s desk

B. a person who is never shown the work

C. class audience

D. the materials supplier only

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. evidence and kindness

B. sequence and expression

C. contrast and choice

D. expression and clarity

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. swap roles between performer and audience

B. record group decisions in a simple rehearsal journal

C. use feedback to improve one repeat performance

D. compare the rim before and after smoothing

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures” at Basic 5?

A. only an unrelated non-African model

B. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

C. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

D. Ghanaian and other African artists

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a three-gesture story, supported by what you noticed or changed

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. a guess about gesture without checking the finished work

D. a review that ignores the work entirely

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Tell a Story with Gestures” work after feedback?

A. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

B. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

C. to improve expression and clarity

D. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 05 • Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan

Visual Arts / Plan / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will select colours intentionally. You will create a colour plan using crayons, scrap paper and a drawing sheet.

Do it in three steps

1. Choose three colours that suit your chosen message.
2. Test the colours in small labelled boxes. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Circle the most readable combination and plan where to use it.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a colour plan; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Keep crayons off the floor to prevent slips.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a labelled colour test and contrast and choice. Also try this: ask a partner which colour is easiest to see.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. completed learner artworks, labels and removable tape

B. a first draft, feedback note and drawing materials

C. crayons, scrap paper and a drawing sheet

D. voice and a short original two-line phrase

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. Roll a smooth ball of soft material.

B. Choose three colours that suit your chosen message.

C. Choose a character and identify one important action.

D. Describe visible lines, colours, textures and shapes.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. a colour plan

B. a sound story

C. a functional pot sketch

D. a recycled collage

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. gesture

B. form

C. call and response

D. colour

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. a three-gesture story

B. a labelled colour test

C. a repeatable beat grid and performance

D. a labelled and accessible classroom display

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan”, what is the second step?

A. Assign each sound to a gentle vocal or body action.

B. Sketch two repeated shapes from the cloth onto paper.

C. Test the colours in small labelled boxes. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

D. Choose one change that supports the artwork’s purpose.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan” activity?

A. Perform the pulse with a partner, starting and stopping together.

B. Practise taking turns as leader and responding group.

C. Show your gesture sequence while a friend identifies the story.

D. Circle the most readable combination and plan where to use it.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

B. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

C. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

D. Keep crayons off the floor to prevent slips.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. connect the form of a useful object to its function

B. shape a useful object from malleable material

C. use voice, space and roles to tell a story

D. select colours intentionally

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. design partner

B. only the teacher’s desk

C. the materials supplier only

D. a person who is never shown the work

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. shape and function

B. contrast and choice

C. steady timing

D. improvement and cooperation

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. compare two interpretations with evidence

B. ask a partner which colour is easiest to see

C. compare the rim before and after smoothing

D. invite a partner to lead the next four beats

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan” at Basic 5?

A. only an unrelated non-African model

B. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

C. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

D. Ghanaian and other African artists

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a review that ignores the work entirely

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. a labelled colour test, supported by what you noticed or changed

D. a guess about colour without checking the finished work

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Make a Colour Plan” work after feedback?

A. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

B. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

C. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

D. to improve contrast and choice

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 06 • Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song

Performing Arts / Plan / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will compose a simple shared musical phrase. You will create a two-part song plan using voice and a short original two-line phrase.

Do it in three steps

1. Write or say a short call about caring for people or places.
2. Invent an easy response of similar length. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Practise taking turns as leader and responding group.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a two-part song plan; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Sing at a comfortable volume; do not strain the voice.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a call and its matching response and clear turns. Also try this: let a second group test whether the response is easy to learn.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. voice and a short original two-line phrase

B. an open space and a gentle drum pulse

C. an earlier performance plan and feedback from classmates

D. a patterned fabric scrap, paper and crayons

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. Choose two safe steps that suit the chosen rhythm.

B. Agree on the order of songs, dance or drama items.

C. Choose finished works and give each a title label.

D. Write or say a short call about caring for people or places.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. a functional pot sketch

B. a pinch pot

C. a short drama scene

D. a two-part song plan

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. reflection

B. call and response

C. gesture

D. drama

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. a three-gesture story

B. a repeatable beat grid and performance

C. a call and its matching response

D. a fixed paper collage

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”, what is the second step?

A. Try three gestures that communicate the action without words.

B. Invent an easy response of similar length. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

C. Assign each sound to a gentle vocal or body action.

D. Rehearse a concrete change as a group.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song” activity?

A. Make the change and explain how the second version improved.

B. Perform the pattern twice and check for a steady pulse.

C. Show your gesture sequence while a friend identifies the story.

D. Practise taking turns as leader and responding group.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. Sing at a comfortable volume; do not strain the voice.

B. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

C. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

D. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. select colours intentionally

B. compose a simple shared musical phrase

C. revise a work thoughtfully

D. coordinate movement with music

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. a person who is never shown the work

B. only the teacher’s desk

C. the materials supplier only

D. singing team

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. clear turns

B. timing and safe space

C. shape and function

D. organisation and respect

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. let a second group test whether the response is easy to learn

B. ask a partner which colour is easiest to see

C. show which reused material became the focal point

D. invite the original reviewer to compare the two versions

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song” at Basic 5?

A. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

B. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

C. Ghanaian and other African artists

D. only an unrelated non-African model

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

B. a guess about call and response without checking the finished work

C. a call and its matching response, supported by what you noticed or changed

D. a review that ignores the work entirely

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Plan a Call-and-Response Song” work after feedback?

A. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

B. to improve clear turns

C. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

D. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

Artist’s reflection

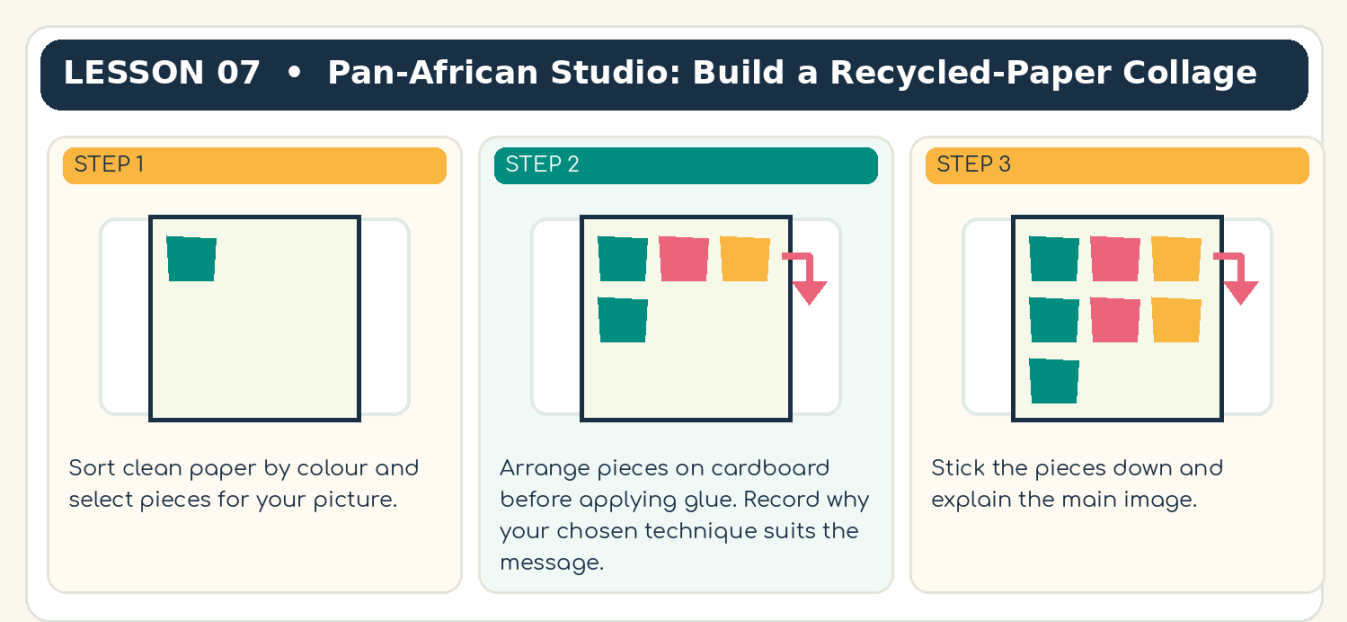

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 07 • Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage

Visual Arts / Make / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will reuse materials while arranging an image. You will create a recycled collage using clean scrap paper, glue, cardboard and blunt scissors.

Do it in three steps

1. Sort clean paper by colour and select pieces for your picture.
2. Arrange pieces on cardboard before applying glue. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Stick the pieces down and explain the main image.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a recycled collage; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Use blunt scissors with supervision and never collect dirty waste.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a fixed paper collage and composition and care. Also try this: show which reused material became the focal point.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. a first draft, feedback note and drawing materials

B. an earlier performance plan and feedback from classmates

C. clean scrap paper, glue, cardboard and blunt scissors

D. a picture or safe sample of a clay pot, pencil and paper

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. Sort clean paper by colour and select pieces for your picture.

B. Choose a character and identify one important action.

C. List three sounds heard in the chosen setting.

D. Roll a smooth ball of soft material.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. a colour plan

B. a recycled collage

C. a short dance composition

D. a revised artwork

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. gesture

B. composition

C. colour

D. form

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. a reasoned art observation

B. a coordinated class performance

C. a fixed paper collage

D. a repeatable dance phrase

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”, what is the second step?

A. Draw the outline using simple curved lines.

B. Choose one change that supports the artwork’s purpose.

C. Arrange pieces on cardboard before applying glue. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

D. Press a thumb gently into the centre and pinch the sides evenly.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage” activity?

A. Restage the piece and explain the difference between the two versions.

B. Smooth the rim and show how the finished bowl can stand.

C. Perform the phrase twice with control and enough personal space.

D. Stick the pieces down and explain the main image.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

B. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

C. Use blunt scissors with supervision and never collect dirty waste.

D. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. reuse materials while arranging an image

B. use evidence to discuss a performance

C. revise a work thoughtfully

D. use art to communicate a helpful message

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. the materials supplier only

B. only the teacher’s desk

C. a person who is never shown the work

D. gallery visitors

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. composition and care

B. sequence and control

C. improvement and cooperation

D. steady timing

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. compare the pattern with a friend’s observation

B. show which reused material became the focal point

C. swap roles between performer and audience

D. compare the rim before and after smoothing

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage” at Basic 5?

A. Ghanaian and other African artists

B. only an unrelated non-African model

C. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

D. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a fixed paper collage, supported by what you noticed or changed

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. a guess about composition without checking the finished work

D. a review that ignores the work entirely

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage” work after feedback?

A. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

B. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

C. to improve composition and care

D. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

Artist’s reflection

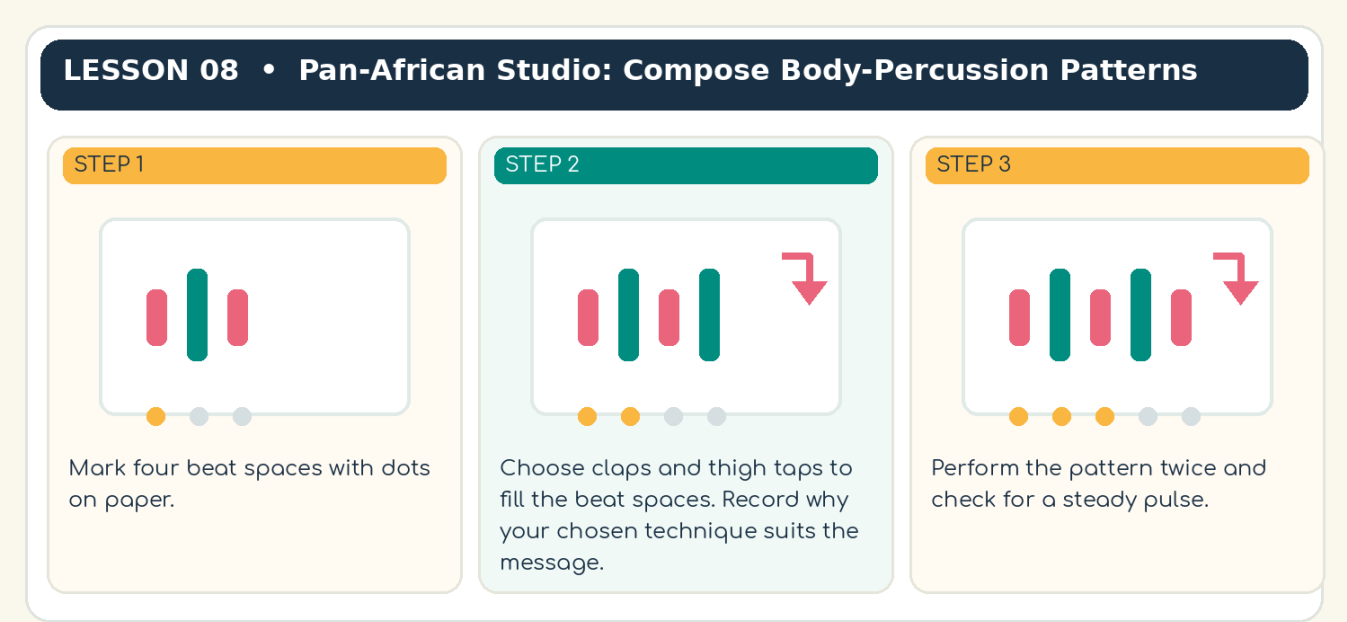

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 08 • Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns

Performing Arts / Make / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will build and repeat a rhythmic pattern. You will create a body-percussion pattern using hands, feet and a written beat grid.

Do it in three steps

1. Mark four beat spaces with dots on paper.
2. Choose claps and thigh taps to fill the beat spaces. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Perform the pattern twice and check for a steady pulse.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a body-percussion pattern; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Tap gently and leave space between performers.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a repeatable beat grid and performance and sequence and control. Also try this: ask a partner to clap the pattern from your grid.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. a short community story and an open safe space

B. clean scrap paper, glue, cardboard and blunt scissors

C. a first draft, feedback note and drawing materials

D. hands, feet and a written beat grid

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. Write or say a short call about caring for people or places.

B. Assign a speaker, listener and narrator for a short scene.

C. Mark four beat spaces with dots on paper.

D. Lay parallel paper strips on a desk as the base.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. a short feedback note

B. a body-percussion pattern

C. a revised artwork

D. a public message poster

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. rhythm

B. sound

C. presentation

D. visual communication

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. a steady four-pulse performance

B. a rehearsed scene with understandable roles

C. a stable pinched bowl

D. a repeatable beat grid and performance

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”, what is the second step?

A. Rehearse a concrete change as a group.

B. Choose claps and thigh taps to fill the beat spaces. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

C. Draw the outline using simple curved lines.

D. Sketch two repeated shapes from the cloth onto paper.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns” activity?

A. Add one personal variation and explain what it represents.

B. Guide visitors to observe one artwork and ask a respectful question.

C. Smooth the rim and show how the finished bowl can stand.

D. Perform the pattern twice and check for a steady pulse.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

B. Tap gently and leave space between performers.

C. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

D. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. build and repeat a rhythmic pattern

B. share artworks with an audience

C. present performance work as a team

D. revise a work thoughtfully

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. a person who is never shown the work

B. peer musicians

C. the materials supplier only

D. only the teacher’s desk

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. sequence and control

B. specific respectful feedback

C. clear purposeful revision

D. composition and care

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. let a second group test whether the response is easy to learn

B. assign two pupils the role of hosts

C. record group decisions in a simple rehearsal journal

D. ask a partner to clap the pattern from your grid

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns” at Basic 5?

A. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

B. Ghanaian and other African artists

C. only an unrelated non-African model

D. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a repeatable beat grid and performance, supported by what you noticed or changed

B. a review that ignores the work entirely

C. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

D. a guess about rhythm without checking the finished work

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns” work after feedback?

A. to improve sequence and control

B. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

C. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

D. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

Artist’s reflection

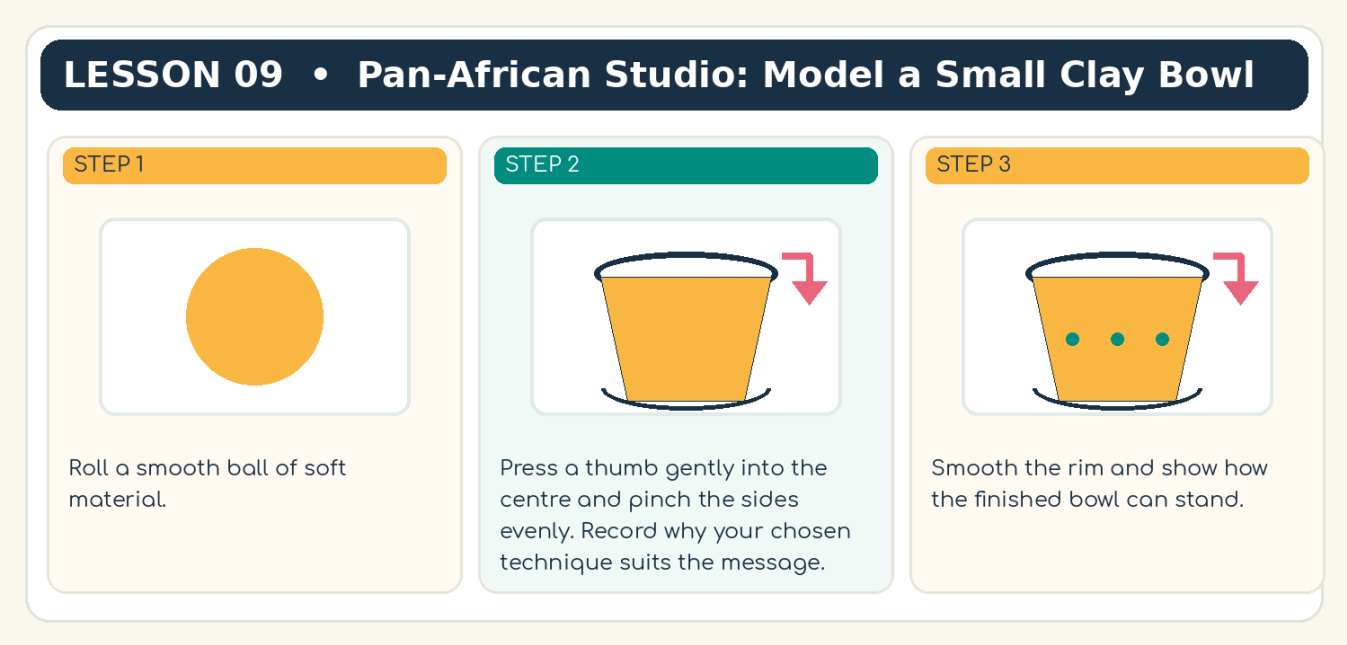

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 09 • Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl

Visual Arts / Make / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will shape a useful object from malleable material. You will create a pinch pot using soft modelling clay or dough and a washable work mat.

Do it in three steps

1. Roll a smooth ball of soft material.

2. Press a thumb gently into the centre and pinch the sides evenly. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

3. Smooth the rim and show how the finished bowl can stand.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a pinch pot; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Do not eat modelling material; wash hands after use.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a stable pinched bowl and even walls and balance. Also try this: compare the rim before and after smoothing.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. a patterned fabric scrap, paper and crayons

B. soft modelling clay or dough and a washable work mat

C. one displayed artwork and an observation note

D. an open space and a gentle drum pulse

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. Choose one clear message about a community need.

B. Roll a smooth ball of soft material.

C. Choose three colours that suit your chosen message.

D. List three sounds heard in the chosen setting.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. a revised artwork

B. a pinch pot

C. a mini exhibition

D. a performance showcase

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. movement

B. composition

C. drama

D. volume

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. a stable pinched bowl

B. a fixed paper collage

C. a steady four-pulse performance

D. a three-gesture story

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl”, what is the second step?

A. Press a thumb gently into the centre and pinch the sides evenly. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

B. Connect them with a pause and a change of direction.

C. Pass one strip over then under the base strips.

D. Test the colours in small labelled boxes.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl” activity?

A. Smooth the rim and show how the finished bowl can stand.

B. Perform the phrase twice with control and enough personal space.

C. Make the change and explain how the second version improved.

D. Perform the sounds in order to represent morning, afternoon or evening.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. Do not eat modelling material; wash hands after use.

B. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

C. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

D. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. communicate ideas through body movement

B. build and repeat a rhythmic pattern

C. shape a useful object from malleable material

D. strengthen performance through reflection

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. art group

B. the materials supplier only

C. only the teacher’s desk

D. a person who is never shown the work

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. contrast and choice

B. organisation and care

C. message and readability

D. even walls and balance

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. invite a partner to lead the next four beats

B. invite peers to guess the setting from the sounds

C. name one place you see a similar pattern in daily life

D. compare the rim before and after smoothing

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl” at Basic 5?

A. only an unrelated non-African model

B. Ghanaian and other African artists

C. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

D. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

B. a stable pinched bowl, supported by what you noticed or changed

C. a guess about volume without checking the finished work

D. a review that ignores the work entirely

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Model a Small Clay Bowl” work after feedback?

A. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

B. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

C. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

D. to improve even walls and balance

Artist’s reflection

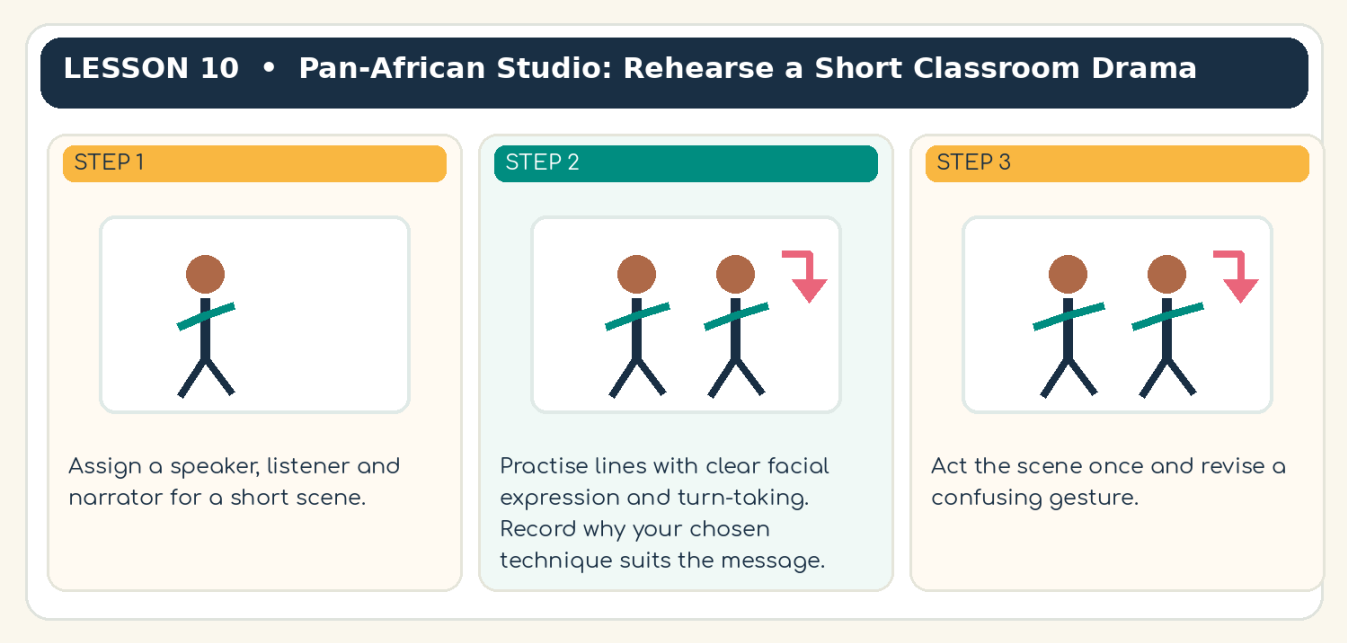

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 10 • Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama

Performing Arts / Make / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will use voice, space and roles to tell a story. You will create a short drama scene using a short original dialogue and simple safe props.

Do it in three steps

1. Assign a speaker, listener and narrator for a short scene.

2. Practise lines with clear facial expression and turn-taking. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

3. Act the scene once and revise a confusing gesture.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a short drama scene; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Keep props light and never imitate dangerous actions.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a rehearsed scene with understandable roles and clarity and teamwork. Also try this: perform the revised line for a second audience.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. an earlier performance plan and feedback from classmates

B. a short original dialogue and simple safe props

C. clean scrap paper, glue, cardboard and blunt scissors

D. paper, pencils, coloured pencils and a ruler

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. Lay parallel paper strips on a desk as the base.

B. Assign a speaker, listener and narrator for a short scene.

C. Mark four beat spaces with dots on paper.

D. Observe the pot rim, body, base and any decoration.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. a restaged performance

B. a body-percussion pattern

C. a silent story

D. a short drama scene

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. rhythm

B. form

C. drama

D. sound

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. a before-and-after artwork comparison

B. a call and its matching response

C. a rehearsed scene with understandable roles

D. a balanced performance review

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”, what is the second step?

A. Place the works where viewers can see them without crowding.

B. Draw the outline using simple curved lines.

C. Sketch two repeated shapes from the cloth onto paper.

D. Practise lines with clear facial expression and turn-taking. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama” activity?

A. Stick the pieces down and explain the main image.

B. Restage the piece and explain the difference between the two versions.

C. Perform the pulse with a partner, starting and stopping together.

D. Act the scene once and revise a confusing gesture.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

B. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

C. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

D. Keep props light and never imitate dangerous actions.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. build and repeat a rhythmic pattern

B. use voice, space and roles to tell a story

C. present performance work as a team

D. compose a simple shared musical phrase

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. class audience

B. only the teacher’s desk

C. the materials supplier only

D. a person who is never shown the work

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. expression and clarity

B. clarity and teamwork

C. composition and care

D. improvement and cooperation

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. invite peers to guess the setting from the sounds

B. invite a classmate to describe a favourite visible detail

C. show which reused material became the focal point

D. perform the revised line for a second audience

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama” at Basic 5?

A. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

B. Ghanaian and other African artists

C. only an unrelated non-African model

D. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

B. a review that ignores the work entirely

C. a rehearsed scene with understandable roles, supported by what you noticed or changed

D. a guess about drama without checking the finished work

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama” work after feedback?

A. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

B. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

C. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

D. to improve clarity and teamwork

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 11 • Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern

Visual Arts / Make / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will explore repeated structure through weaving. You will create a woven paper mat using two contrasting paper colours and pre-cut strips.

Do it in three steps

1. Lay parallel paper strips on a desk as the base.
2. Pass one strip over then under the base strips. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Repeat the sequence and straighten the finished pattern.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a woven paper mat; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Use pre-cut strips or blunt scissors with supervision.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for an over-under paper mat and regular pattern. Also try this: name one place you see a similar pattern in daily life.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. two contrasting paper colours and pre-cut strips

B. a short original dialogue and simple safe props

C. clean scrap paper, glue, cardboard and blunt scissors

D. one short class performance and a two-column note

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. Observe the pot rim, body, base and any decoration.

B. Sort clean paper by colour and select pieces for your picture.

C. Identify one timing or storytelling issue from feedback.

D. Lay parallel paper strips on a desk as the base.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. a two-part song plan

B. a performance showcase

C. a body-percussion pattern

D. a woven paper mat

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. staging

B. rhythm

C. appreciation

D. repetition

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. a readable community poster

B. an over-under paper mat

C. a labelled colour test

D. a coordinated class performance

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern”, what is the second step?

A. Pass one strip over then under the base strips. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

B. Place the works where viewers can see them without crowding.

C. Choose one change that supports the artwork’s purpose.

D. Draw a bold image that supports the message.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern” activity?

A. Stick the pieces down and explain the main image.

B. Practise taking turns as leader and responding group.

C. Repeat the sequence and straighten the finished pattern.

D. Circle the most readable combination and plan where to use it.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

B. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

C. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

D. Use pre-cut strips or blunt scissors with supervision.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. explore repeated structure through weaving

B. notice how art can carry cultural meaning

C. present performance work as a team

D. build and repeat a rhythmic pattern

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. only the teacher’s desk

B. the materials supplier only

C. gallery visitors

D. a person who is never shown the work

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. clear purposeful revision

B. timing and safe space

C. sequence and expression

D. regular pattern

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. invite peers to guess the setting from the sounds

B. swap roles between performer and audience

C. name one place you see a similar pattern in daily life

D. invite a partner to lead the next four beats

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern” at Basic 5?

A. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

B. Ghanaian and other African artists

C. only an unrelated non-African model

D. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a guess about repetition without checking the finished work

B. an over-under paper mat, supported by what you noticed or changed

C. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

D. a review that ignores the work entirely

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Weave a Paper Pattern” work after feedback?

A. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

B. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

C. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

D. to improve regular pattern

Artist’s reflection

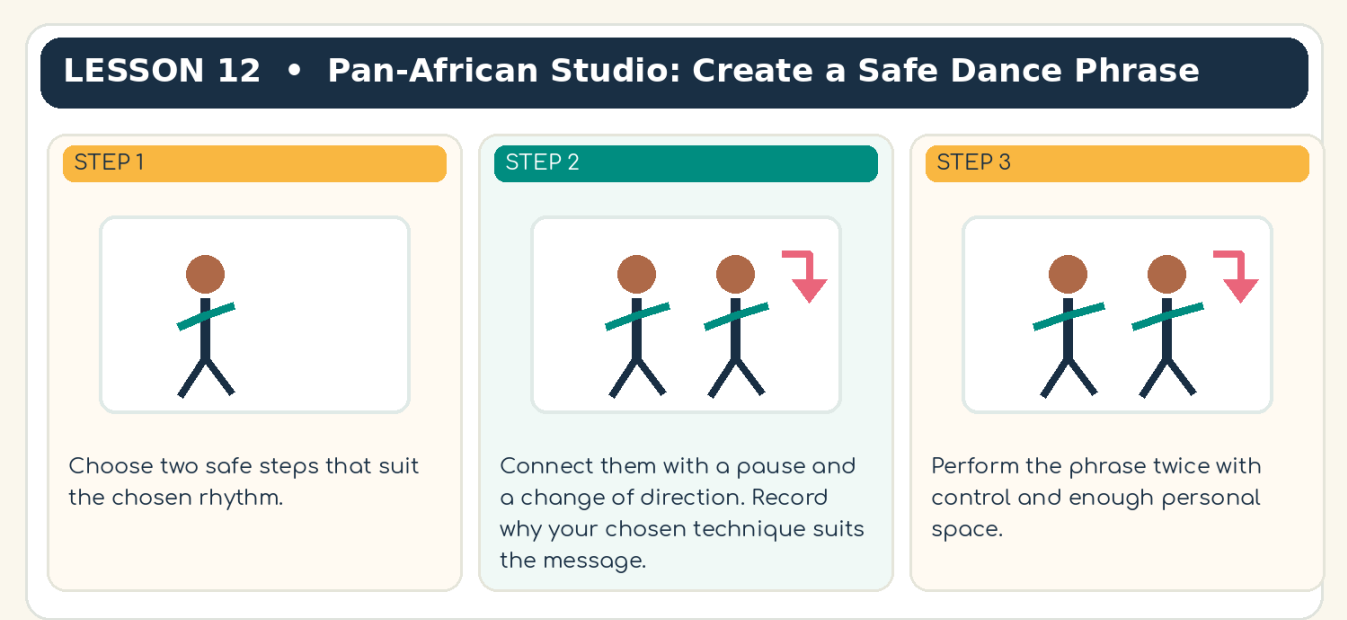

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 12 • Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase

Performing Arts / Make / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will coordinate movement with music. You will create a short dance composition using an open space and a gentle drum pulse.

Do it in three steps

1. Choose two safe steps that suit the chosen rhythm.
2. Connect them with a pause and a change of direction. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Perform the phrase twice with control and enough personal space.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a short dance composition; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Never force a jump, spin or movement that causes pain.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a repeatable dance phrase and timing and safe space. Also try this: teach your phrase to one partner without collisions.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. paper, pencils, coloured pencils and a ruler

B. an open space and a gentle drum pulse

C. a patterned fabric scrap, paper and crayons

D. one short class performance and a two-column note

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. Read or listen to one helpful comment on the draft.

B. Choose two safe steps that suit the chosen rhythm.

C. List three sounds heard in the chosen setting.

D. Observe the pot rim, body, base and any decoration.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. a motif study

B. a short dance composition

C. a body-percussion pattern

D. a performance showcase

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. rhythm

B. presentation

C. movement

D. pulse

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. a repeatable dance phrase

B. an improved final performance

C. a coordinated class performance

D. a call and its matching response

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”, what is the second step?

A. Place the works where viewers can see them without crowding.

B. Connect them with a pause and a change of direction. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

C. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit.

D. Test the colours in small labelled boxes.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase” activity?

A. Add a label showing how the pot might be used.

B. Perform the phrase twice with control and enough personal space.

C. Act the scene once and revise a confusing gesture.

D. Smooth the rim and show how the finished bowl can stand.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. Never force a jump, spin or movement that causes pain.

B. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

C. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

D. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. coordinate movement with music

B. recognise pulse and respectful listening

C. select colours intentionally

D. build and repeat a rhythmic pattern

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. only the teacher’s desk

B. the materials supplier only

C. a person who is never shown the work

D. class audience

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. composition and care

B. organisation and care

C. timing and safe space

D. sequence and expression

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. compare the pattern with a friend’s observation

B. ask classmates what action the poster encourages

C. teach your phrase to one partner without collisions

D. ask a partner which colour is easiest to see

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase” at Basic 5?

A. Ghanaian and other African artists

B. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

C. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

D. only an unrelated non-African model

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

B. a guess about movement without checking the finished work

C. a repeatable dance phrase, supported by what you noticed or changed

D. a review that ignores the work entirely

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Create a Safe Dance Phrase” work after feedback?

A. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

B. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

C. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

D. to improve timing and safe space

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 13 • Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster

Visual Arts / Make / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will use art to communicate a helpful message. You will create a public message poster using paper, pencils, coloured pencils and a ruler.

Do it in three steps

1. Choose one clear message about a community need.
2. Draw a bold image that supports the message. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Add a few large readable words and check the layout.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a public message poster; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Use fictional names and do not display anyone’s private information.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a readable community poster and message and readability. Also try this: ask classmates what action the poster encourages.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. paper, pencils, coloured pencils and a ruler

B. two contrasting paper colours and pre-cut strips

C. completed learner artworks, labels and removable tape

D. an open space and a gentle drum pulse

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. Choose one clear message about a community need.

B. Mark four beat spaces with dots on paper.

C. Choose a character and identify one important action.

D. Identify one timing or storytelling issue from feedback.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. a public message poster

B. a rhythmic echo

C. a colour plan

D. a body-percussion pattern

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. appreciation

B. visual communication

C. pattern

D. volume

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. a readable community poster

B. a reasoned art observation

C. a labelled pattern sketch

D. a before-and-after artwork comparison

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster”, what is the second step?

A. Draw a bold image that supports the message. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

B. Practise lines with clear facial expression and turn-taking.

C. Place the works where viewers can see them without crowding.

D. Rehearse a concrete change as a group.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster” activity?

A. Give one evidence-based compliment and one possible improvement.

B. Restage the piece and explain the difference between the two versions.

C. Add a few large readable words and check the layout.

D. Guide visitors to observe one artwork and ask a respectful question.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

B. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

C. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

D. Use fictional names and do not display anyone’s private information.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. use art to communicate a helpful message

B. use voice, space and roles to tell a story

C. connect the form of a useful object to its function

D. strengthen performance through reflection

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. school community

B. only the teacher’s desk

C. a person who is never shown the work

D. the materials supplier only

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. shape and function

B. evidence and kindness

C. steady timing

D. message and readability

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. name one place you see a similar pattern in daily life

B. invite a classmate to describe a favourite visible detail

C. ask classmates what action the poster encourages

D. ask a partner to clap the pattern from your grid

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster” at Basic 5?

A. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

B. Ghanaian and other African artists

C. only an unrelated non-African model

D. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a readable community poster, supported by what you noticed or changed

B. a guess about visual communication without checking the finished work

C. a review that ignores the work entirely

D. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Design a Community-Care Poster” work after feedback?

A. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

B. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

C. to improve message and readability

D. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

Artist’s reflection

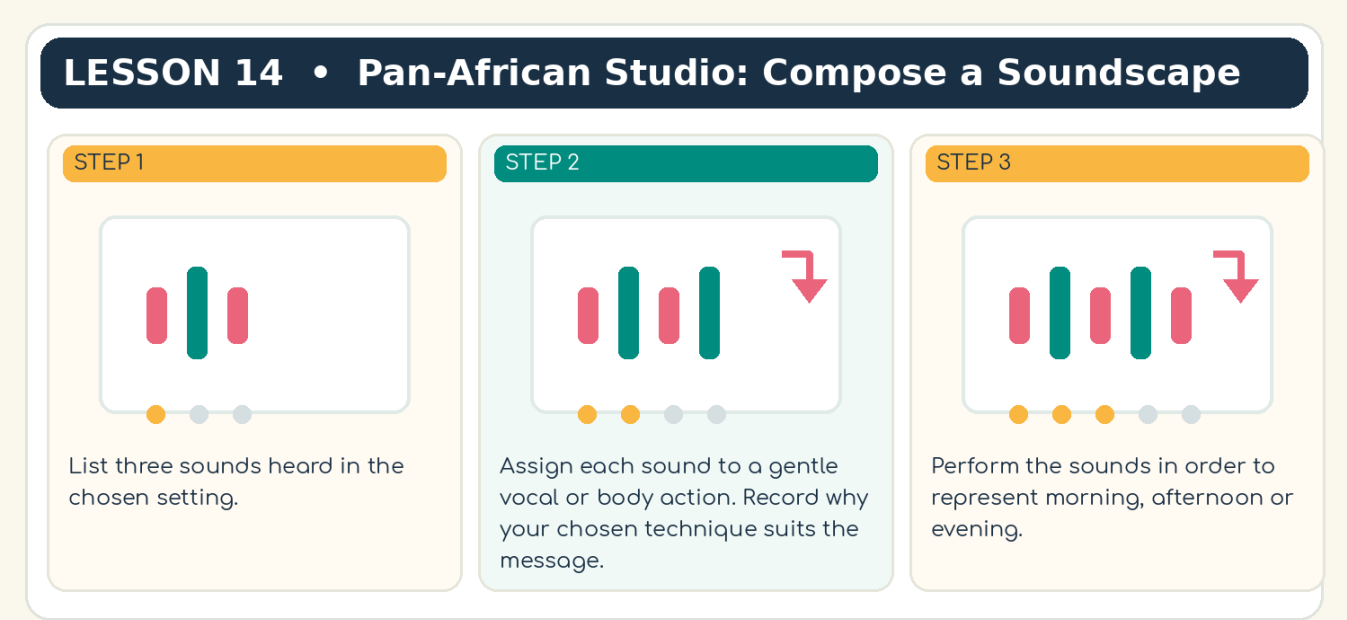

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 14 • Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape

Performing Arts / Make / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will represent a place through organised sounds. You will create a sound story using voice, clapping and safe non-breakable sound makers.

Do it in three steps

1. List three sounds heard in the chosen setting.
2. Assign each sound to a gentle vocal or body action. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Perform the sounds in order to represent morning, afternoon or evening.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a sound story; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Avoid loud noises, glass objects and dangerous equipment.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a three-part soundscape and sequence and expression. Also try this: invite peers to guess the setting from the sounds.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. a short original dialogue and simple safe props

B. voice and a short original two-line phrase

C. voice, clapping and safe non-breakable sound makers

D. hands, feet and a written beat grid

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. Mark four beat spaces with dots on paper.

B. List three sounds heard in the chosen setting.

C. Read or listen to one helpful comment on the draft.

D. Assign a speaker, listener and narrator for a short scene.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. a functional pot sketch

B. a short drama scene

C. a restaged performance

D. a sound story

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. rhythm

B. reflection

C. form

D. sound

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. a call and its matching response

B. a three-part soundscape

C. a labelled and accessible classroom display

D. a three-gesture story

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape”, what is the second step?

A. Draw the outline using simple curved lines.

B. Assign each sound to a gentle vocal or body action. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

C. Invent an easy response of similar length.

D. Connect them with a pause and a change of direction.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape” activity?

A. Perform the sounds in order to represent morning, afternoon or evening.

B. Circle the most readable combination and plan where to use it.

C. Act the scene once and revise a confusing gesture.

D. Guide visitors to observe one artwork and ask a respectful question.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. Avoid loud noises, glass objects and dangerous equipment.

B. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

C. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

D. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. represent a place through organised sounds

B. notice how art can carry cultural meaning

C. reuse materials while arranging an image

D. compose a simple shared musical phrase

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. a person who is never shown the work

B. class audience

C. the materials supplier only

D. only the teacher’s desk

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. organisation and care

B. composition and care

C. sequence and expression

D. evidence and kindness

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. ask a partner to clap the pattern from your grid

B. invite peers to guess the setting from the sounds

C. swap roles between performer and audience

D. compare two interpretations with evidence

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape” at Basic 5?

A. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

B. only an unrelated non-African model

C. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

D. Ghanaian and other African artists

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a review that ignores the work entirely

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. a three-part soundscape, supported by what you noticed or changed

D. a guess about sound without checking the finished work

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Compose a Soundscape” work after feedback?

A. to improve sequence and expression

B. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

C. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

D. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

Artist’s reflection

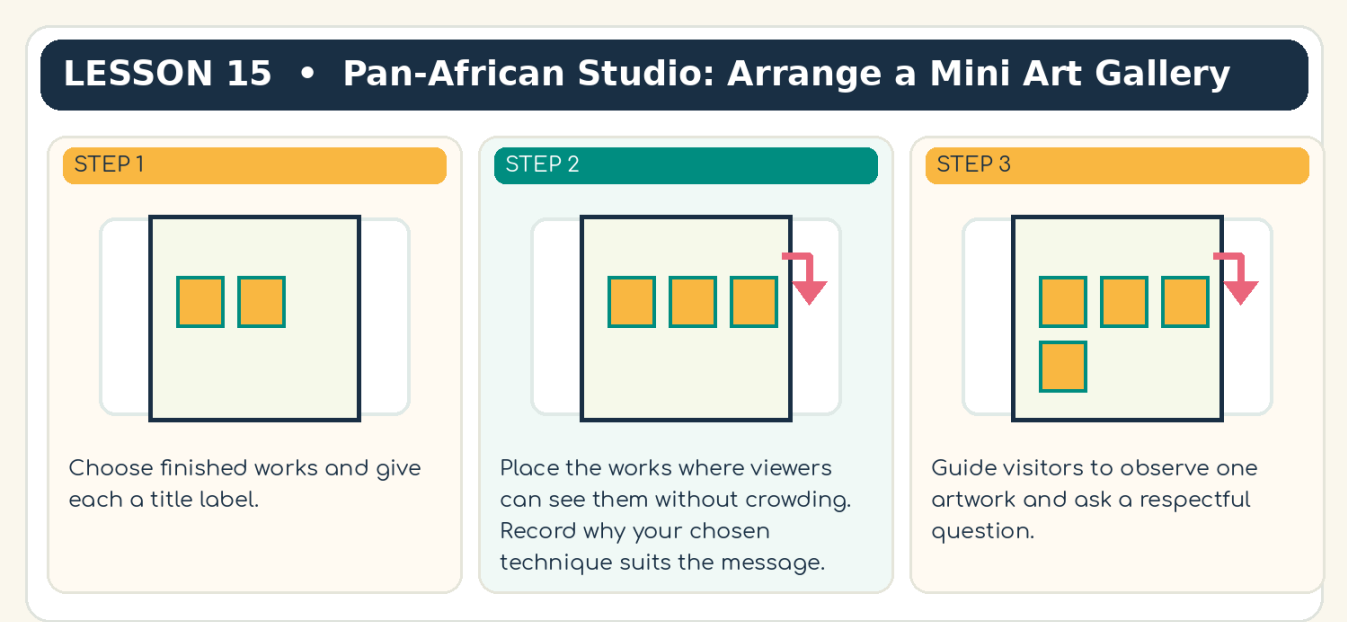

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 15 • Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery

Visual Arts / Display / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will share artworks with an audience. You will create a mini exhibition using completed learner artworks, labels and removable tape.

Do it in three steps

1. Choose finished works and give each a title label.

2. Place the works where viewers can see them without crowding. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

3. Guide visitors to observe one artwork and ask a respectful question.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a mini exhibition; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Do not hang work near exits or use unsafe climbing equipment.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a labelled and accessible classroom display and organisation and care. Also try this: invite a classmate to describe a favourite visible detail.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. a patterned fabric scrap, paper and crayons

B. one short class performance and a two-column note

C. completed learner artworks, labels and removable tape

D. one displayed artwork and an observation note

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. Describe visible lines, colours, textures and shapes.

B. Listen to a short local rhythm and count its pulses.

C. Sort clean paper by colour and select pieces for your picture.

D. Choose finished works and give each a title label.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. a two-part song plan

B. a motif study

C. a recycled collage

D. a mini exhibition

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. appreciation

B. presentation

C. call and response

D. rhythm

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. a labelled and accessible classroom display

B. a reasoned art observation

C. a balanced performance review

D. a labelled colour test

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”, what is the second step?

A. Place the works where viewers can see them without crowding. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

B. Draw the outline using simple curved lines.

C. Invent an easy response of similar length.

D. Sketch two repeated shapes from the cloth onto paper.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery” activity?

A. Stick the pieces down and explain the main image.

B. Restage the piece and explain the difference between the two versions.

C. Guide visitors to observe one artwork and ask a respectful question.

D. Add a label showing how the pot might be used.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. Do not hang work near exits or use unsafe climbing equipment.

B. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

C. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

D. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. strengthen performance through reflection

B. notice how art can carry cultural meaning

C. compose a simple shared musical phrase

D. share artworks with an audience

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. the materials supplier only

B. gallery visitors

C. a person who is never shown the work

D. only the teacher’s desk

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. clarity and teamwork

B. composition and care

C. sequence and expression

D. organisation and care

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. name one place you see a similar pattern in daily life

B. invite a classmate to describe a favourite visible detail

C. invite peers to guess the setting from the sounds

D. assign two pupils the role of hosts

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery” at Basic 5?

A. only an unrelated non-African model

B. Ghanaian and other African artists

C. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

D. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

B. a labelled and accessible classroom display, supported by what you noticed or changed

C. a review that ignores the work entirely

D. a guess about presentation without checking the finished work

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery” work after feedback?

A. to improve organisation and care

B. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

C. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

D. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

Artist’s reflection

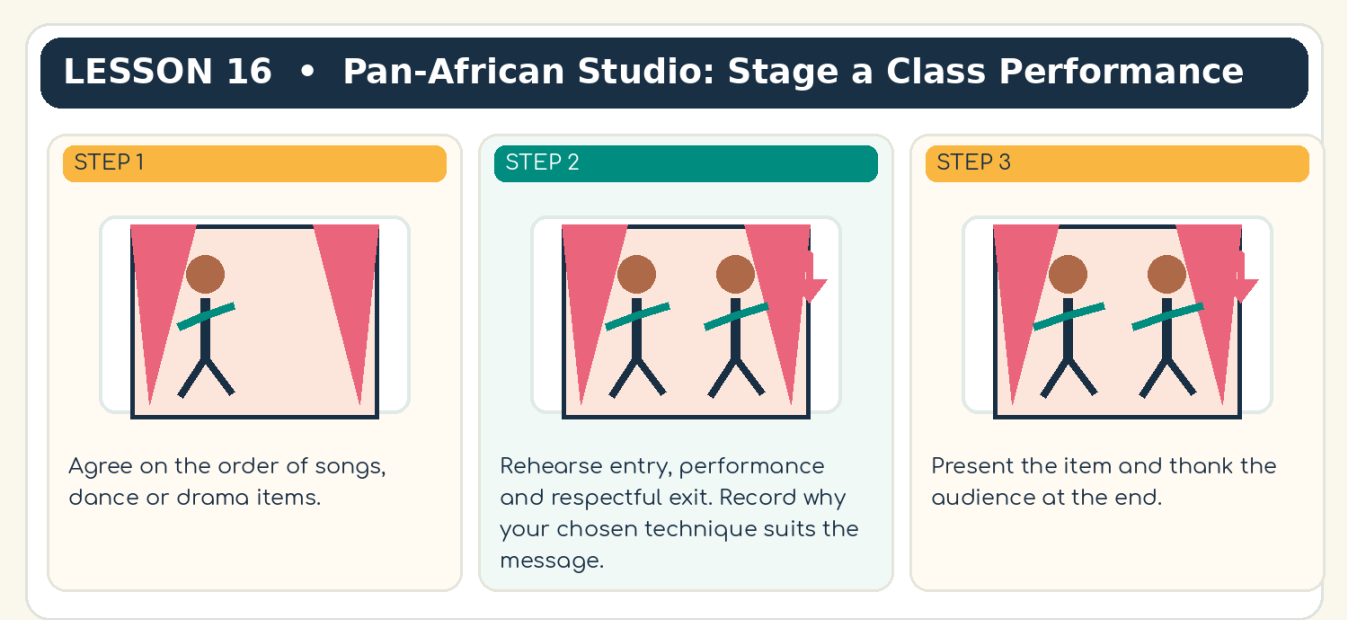

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 16 • Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance

Performing Arts / Display / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will present performance work as a team. You will create a performance showcase using a class composition, simple programme and safe stage area.

Do it in three steps

1. Agree on the order of songs, dance or drama items.
2. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Present the item and thank the audience at the end.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a performance showcase; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Check floor space, sound levels and exit paths.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a coordinated class performance and organisation and respect. Also try this: assign two pupils the role of hosts.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. a short community story and an open safe space

B. clean scrap paper, glue, cardboard and blunt scissors

C. a class composition, simple programme and safe stage area

D. soft modelling clay or dough and a washable work mat

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. Choose two safe steps that suit the chosen rhythm.

B. Listen to a short local rhythm and count its pulses.

C. Agree on the order of songs, dance or drama items.

D. Choose three colours that suit your chosen message.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. a performance showcase

B. a two-part song plan

C. a restaged performance

D. a motif study

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. repetition

B. staging

C. gesture

D. visual communication

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. a stable pinched bowl

B. a coordinated class performance

C. a readable community poster

D. a steady four-pulse performance

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance”, what is the second step?

A. Test the colours in small labelled boxes.

B. Arrange pieces on cardboard before applying glue.

C. Connect them with a pause and a change of direction.

D. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance” activity?

A. Perform the phrase twice with control and enough personal space.

B. Repeat the sequence and straighten the finished pattern.

C. Circle the most readable combination and plan where to use it.

D. Present the item and thank the audience at the end.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

B. Check floor space, sound levels and exit paths.

C. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

D. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. notice how art can carry cultural meaning

B. explore repeated structure through weaving

C. present performance work as a team

D. compose a simple shared musical phrase

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. the materials supplier only

B. only the teacher’s desk

C. a person who is never shown the work

D. invited audience

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. regular pattern

B. composition and care

C. organisation and respect

D. shape and meaning

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. swap roles between performer and audience

B. assign two pupils the role of hosts

C. ask classmates what action the poster encourages

D. ask a partner to clap the pattern from your grid

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance” at Basic 5?

A. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

B. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

C. only an unrelated non-African model

D. Ghanaian and other African artists

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a review that ignores the work entirely

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. a guess about staging without checking the finished work

D. a coordinated class performance, supported by what you noticed or changed

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Stage a Class Performance” work after feedback?

A. to improve organisation and respect

B. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

C. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

D. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 17 • Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork

Visual Arts / Appraise / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will appreciate work using evidence. You will create an artwork response using one displayed artwork and an observation note.

Do it in three steps

1. Describe visible lines, colours, textures and shapes.
2. Say which details help communicate the artist's idea. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Give one evidence-based compliment and one possible improvement.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your an artwork response; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Discuss the artwork kindly, not the learner's personal traits.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a reasoned art observation and specific respectful feedback. Also try this: compare two interpretations with evidence.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. paper, pencils, coloured pencils and a ruler

B. hands, feet and a written beat grid

C. one displayed artwork and an observation note

D. a short original dialogue and simple safe props

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. Describe visible lines, colours, textures and shapes.

B. Choose two safe steps that suit the chosen rhythm.

C. Choose finished works and give each a title label.

D. Watch or listen carefully without interrupting.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. a motif study

B. a two-part song plan

C. an artwork response

D. a woven paper mat

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. appreciation

B. sound

C. presentation

D. rhythm

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. an improved final performance

B. a readable community poster

C. an annotated pot drawing

D. a reasoned art observation

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork”, what is the second step?

A. Say which details help communicate the artist’s idea. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

B. Press a thumb gently into the centre and pinch the sides evenly.

C. Test the colours in small labelled boxes.

D. Arrange pieces on cardboard before applying glue.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork” activity?

A. Perform the pulse with a partner, starting and stopping together.

B. Give one evidence-based compliment and one possible improvement.

C. Present the item and thank the audience at the end.

D. Perform the pattern twice and check for a steady pulse.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

B. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

C. Discuss the artwork kindly, not the learner’s personal traits.

D. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. appreciate work using evidence

B. share artworks with an audience

C. strengthen performance through reflection

D. present performance work as a team

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. only the teacher’s desk

B. artist and classmates

C. a person who is never shown the work

D. the materials supplier only

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. expression and clarity

B. regular pattern

C. specific respectful feedback

D. evidence and kindness

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. perform the revised line for a second audience

B. let a second group test whether the response is easy to learn

C. compare the rim before and after smoothing

D. compare two interpretations with evidence

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork” at Basic 5?

A. only an unrelated non-African model

B. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

C. Ghanaian and other African artists

D. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a review that ignores the work entirely

B. a guess about appreciation without checking the finished work

C. a reasoned art observation, supported by what you noticed or changed

D. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Look Closely at an Artwork” work after feedback?

A. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

B. to improve specific respectful feedback

C. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

D. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

Artist’s reflection

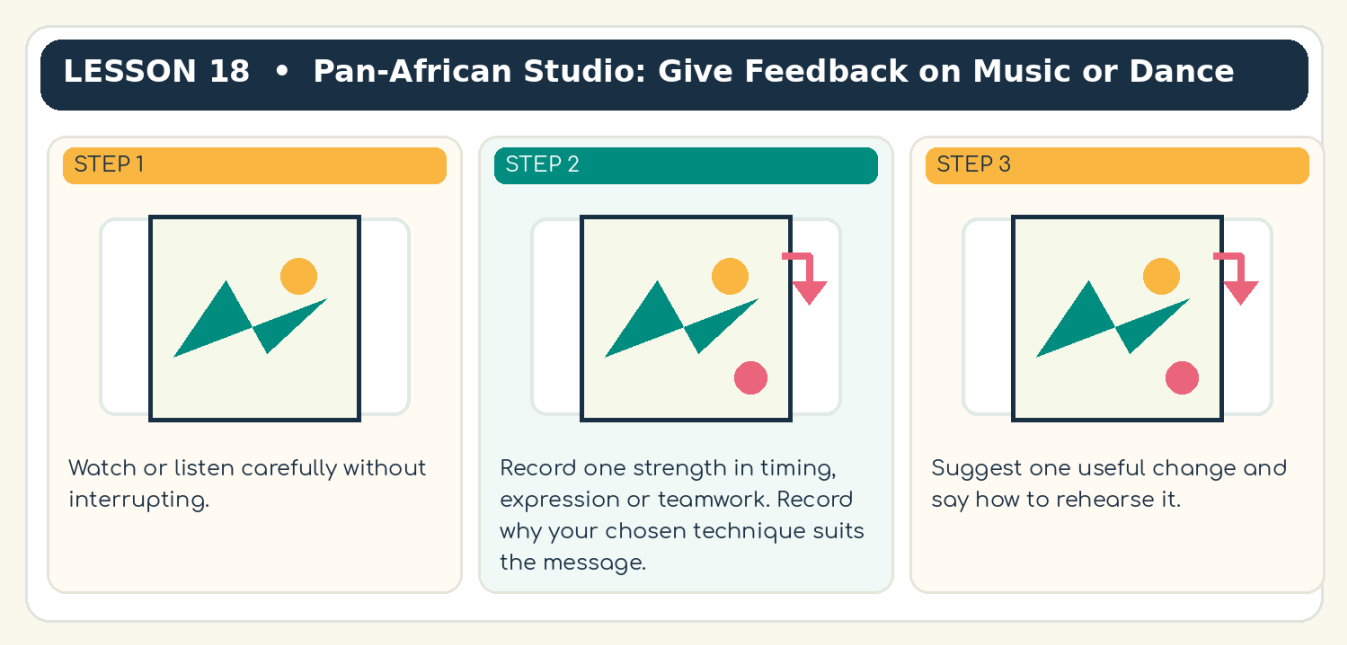

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 18 • Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance

Performing Arts / Appraise / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will use evidence to discuss a performance. You will create a short feedback note using one short class performance and a two-column note.

Do it in three steps

1. Watch or listen carefully without interrupting.
2. Record one strength in timing, expression or teamwork. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Suggest one useful change and say how to rehearse it.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a short feedback note; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Respond respectfully and avoid personal insults.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a balanced performance review and evidence and kindness. Also try this: use feedback to improve one repeat performance.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. paper, pencils, coloured pencils and a ruler

B. an earlier performance plan and feedback from classmates

C. voice, clapping and safe non-breakable sound makers

D. one short class performance and a two-column note

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. Look at a cloth pattern and point to its repeated marks.

B. Agree on the order of songs, dance or drama items.

C. Watch or listen carefully without interrupting.

D. List three sounds heard in the chosen setting.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. a restaged performance

B. a short feedback note

C. a performance showcase

D. a mini exhibition

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. performance appraisal

B. visual communication

C. call and response

D. sound

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. a balanced performance review

B. a repeatable dance phrase

C. a before-and-after artwork comparison

D. a labelled colour test

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”, what is the second step?

A. Connect them with a pause and a change of direction.

B. Test the colours in small labelled boxes.

C. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit.

D. Record one strength in timing, expression or teamwork. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance” activity?

A. Add a label showing how the pot might be used.

B. Restage the piece and explain the difference between the two versions.

C. Add one personal variation and explain what it represents.

D. Suggest one useful change and say how to rehearse it.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. Respond respectfully and avoid personal insults.

B. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

C. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

D. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. shape a useful object from malleable material

B. reuse materials while arranging an image

C. strengthen performance through reflection

D. use evidence to discuss a performance

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. the materials supplier only

B. a person who is never shown the work

C. only the teacher’s desk

D. performers

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. evidence and kindness

B. message and readability

C. clear purposeful revision

D. shape and meaning

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. ask a partner which colour is easiest to see

B. teach your phrase to one partner without collisions

C. ask classmates what action the poster encourages

D. use feedback to improve one repeat performance

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance” at Basic 5?

A. only an unrelated non-African model

B. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

C. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

D. Ghanaian and other African artists

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a guess about performance appraisal without checking the finished work

B. a review that ignores the work entirely

C. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

D. a balanced performance review, supported by what you noticed or changed

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Give Feedback on Music or Dance” work after feedback?

A. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

B. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

C. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

D. to improve evidence and kindness

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 19 • Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback

Visual Arts / Appraise / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will revise a work thoughtfully. You will create a revised artwork using a first draft, feedback note and drawing materials.

Do it in three steps

1. Read or listen to one helpful comment on the draft.
2. Choose one change that supports the artwork's purpose. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Make the change and explain how the second version improved.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a revised artwork; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Keep the original to show growth; use tools safely.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a before-and-after artwork comparison and clear purposeful revision. Also try this: invite the original reviewer to compare the two versions.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. an earlier performance plan and feedback from classmates

B. paper, pencils, coloured pencils and a ruler

C. a short community story and an open safe space

D. a first draft, feedback note and drawing materials

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. Choose one clear message about a community need.

B. Read or listen to one helpful comment on the draft.

C. Identify one timing or storytelling issue from feedback.

D. Agree on the order of songs, dance or drama items.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. a revised artwork

B. a pinch pot

C. a restaged performance

D. a recycled collage

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. movement

B. reflection

C. drama

D. appreciation

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. a before-and-after artwork comparison

B. a call and its matching response

C. a labelled pattern sketch

D. a rehearsed scene with understandable roles

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”, what is the second step?

A. Sketch two repeated shapes from the cloth onto paper.

B. Arrange pieces on cardboard before applying glue.

C. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit.

D. Choose one change that supports the artwork’s purpose. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback” activity?

A. Guide visitors to observe one artwork and ask a respectful question.

B. Practise taking turns as leader and responding group.

C. Make the change and explain how the second version improved.

D. Smooth the rim and show how the finished bowl can stand.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

B. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

C. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

D. Keep the original to show growth; use tools safely.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. shape a useful object from malleable material

B. revise a work thoughtfully

C. coordinate movement with music

D. notice how art can carry cultural meaning

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. only the teacher’s desk

B. peer reviewer

C. the materials supplier only

D. a person who is never shown the work

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. composition and care

B. shape and meaning

C. steady timing

D. clear purposeful revision

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. perform the revised line for a second audience

B. invite the original reviewer to compare the two versions

C. ask a partner to clap the pattern from your grid

D. compare narrow and wide pot openings

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback” at Basic 5?

A. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

B. only an unrelated non-African model

C. Ghanaian and other African artists

D. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a before-and-after artwork comparison, supported by what you noticed or changed

B. a review that ignores the work entirely

C. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

D. a guess about reflection without checking the finished work

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Improve an Artwork with Feedback” work after feedback?

A. to improve clear purposeful revision

B. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

C. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

D. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 20 • Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance

Performing Arts / Appraise / Basic 5

Your mission

Today you will strengthen performance through reflection. You will create a restaged performance using an earlier performance plan and feedback from classmates.

Do it in three steps

1. Identify one timing or storytelling issue from feedback.
2. Rehearse a concrete change as a group. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.
3. Restage the piece and explain the difference between the two versions.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with Ghanaian and other African artists; combine techniques, justify artistic choices and create a portfolio.

Level-up art task

Compare two relevant artists, one Ghanaian and one from elsewhere in Africa. Produce two design or performance trials for your a restaged performance; justify the stronger choice using evidence.

Safety and kindness

Warm up gently and respect each group member’s contribution.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for an improved final performance and improvement and cooperation. Also try this: record group decisions in a simple rehearsal journal.

PLAY • Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which materials are listed for “Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. voice, clapping and safe non-breakable sound makers

B. an earlier performance plan and feedback from classmates

C. a picture or safe sample of a clay pot, pencil and paper

D. a short community story and an open safe space

2. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which observation or preparation starts “Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. Read or listen to one helpful comment on the draft.

B. Identify one timing or storytelling issue from feedback.

C. Choose two safe steps that suit the chosen rhythm.

D. Choose a character and identify one important action.

3. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, what will the learner create or perform in “Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. a pinch pot

B. a restaged performance

C. a motif study

D. a short dance composition

4. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which artistic element is the main focus of “Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. movement

B. reflection

C. volume

D. visual communication

5. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. a rehearsed scene with understandable roles

B. a repeatable beat grid and performance

C. a reasoned art observation

D. an improved final performance

CHALLENGE • Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, after the opening action in “Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance”, what is the second step?

A. Say which details help communicate the artist’s idea.

B. Record one strength in timing, expression or teamwork.

C. Echo the pulse by tapping softly four times.

D. Rehearse a concrete change as a group. Record why your chosen technique suits the message.

7. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which closing action completes the three-stage “Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance” activity?

A. Guide visitors to observe one artwork and ask a respectful question.

B. Stick the pieces down and explain the main image.

C. Repeat the sequence and straighten the finished pattern.

D. Restage the piece and explain the difference between the two versions.

8. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

B. Warm up gently and respect each group member’s contribution.

C. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

D. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

9. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. compose a simple shared musical phrase

B. strengthen performance through reflection

C. reuse materials while arranging an image

D. notice how art can carry cultural meaning

10. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, for whom is the finished “Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. a person who is never shown the work

B. class audience

C. only the teacher’s desk

D. the materials supplier only

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when assessing “Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. even walls and balance

B. organisation and respect

C. improvement and cooperation

D. regular pattern

12. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. record group decisions in a simple rehearsal journal

B. show which reused material became the focal point

C. compare narrow and wide pot openings

D. invite the original reviewer to compare the two versions

13. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which cultural or geographic context guides “Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance” at Basic 5?

A. a fictional culture with no artwork to examine

B. Ghanaian and other African artists

C. a guess about an artist instead of an observed example

D. only an unrelated non-African model

14. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, when you explain “Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. an improved final performance, supported by what you noticed or changed

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. a review that ignores the work entirely

D. a guess about reflection without checking the finished work

15. In work about Ghanaian and other African artists, which reason best supports revising your “Pan-African Studio: Reflect and Restage a Performance” work after feedback?

A. to improve improvement and cooperation

B. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

C. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

D. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____