Ghanaian Language — Ga | Basic 4

Illustrated lesson book • English-narrated offline video in course folder • Independent educational resource

Lesson 1: Observe and listen: Good morning

The expression “Ojekoo” is used for “Good morning”. Look at an illustrated exchange. Identify when the phrase is used. Explain which situation calls for the expression. Correct tone and pronunciation should be modelled by a qualified speaker of Ga.

Phrase: Ojekoo — Good morning

Try: Match the phrase with a picture of the correct situation.

Reflect: Where would you use “Ojekoo”? Explain in your own words.

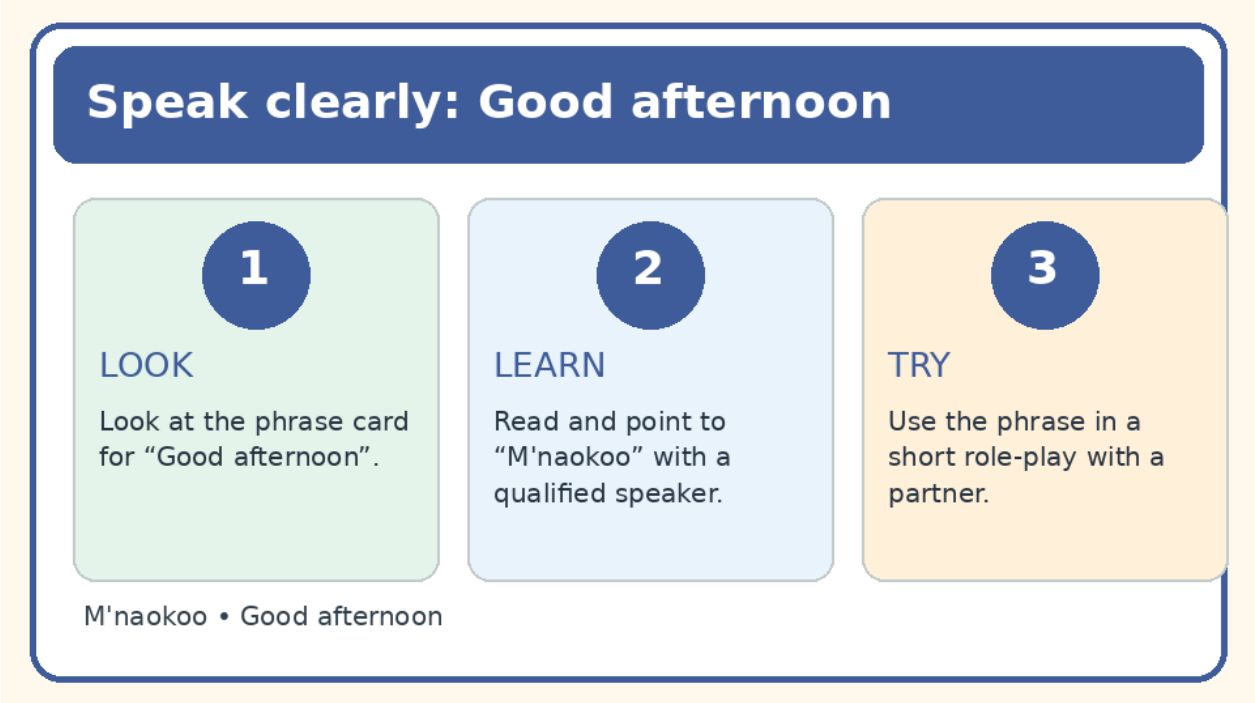

Play (5 questions)

1. Observe and listen: Good morning — Which Ga phrase means “Good morning”?
2. Observe and listen: Good morning — What is the meaning of “Ojekoo”?
3. Observe and listen: Good morning — Which learning action starts this task?
4. Observe and listen: Good morning — Which action helps you practise speaking?
5. Observe and listen: Good morning — Which material helps you read the expression?

Challenge (10 questions)

1. Observe and listen: Good morning — When should “Ojekoo” be used?
2. Observe and listen: Good morning — Which phrase should be placed on the matching meaning card “Good morning”?
3. Observe and listen: Good morning — Which step comes after looking at the phrase card?
4. Observe and listen: Good morning — How should you check a difficult Ga sound?
5. Observe and listen: Good morning — Which task shows the expression in context?
6. Observe and listen: Good morning — Which behaviour respects different home languages?
7. Observe and listen: Good morning — Why should tone and pronunciation be checked?
8. Observe and listen: Good morning — Which activity best prepares you to write “Ojekoo”?
9. Observe and listen: Good morning — How can you demonstrate reading comprehension here?
10. Observe and listen: Good morning — What should you do if a native speaker suggests a correction?

Lesson 2: Speak clearly: Good afternoon

The expression “M'naokoo” is used for “Good afternoon”. Listen to a qualified speaker model the phrase before repeating. Explain which situation calls for the expression. Correct tone and pronunciation should be modelled by a qualified speaker of Ga.

Phrase: M'naokoo — Good afternoon

Try: Use the phrase in a short role-play with a partner.

Reflect: Where would you use “M'naokoo”? Explain in your own words.

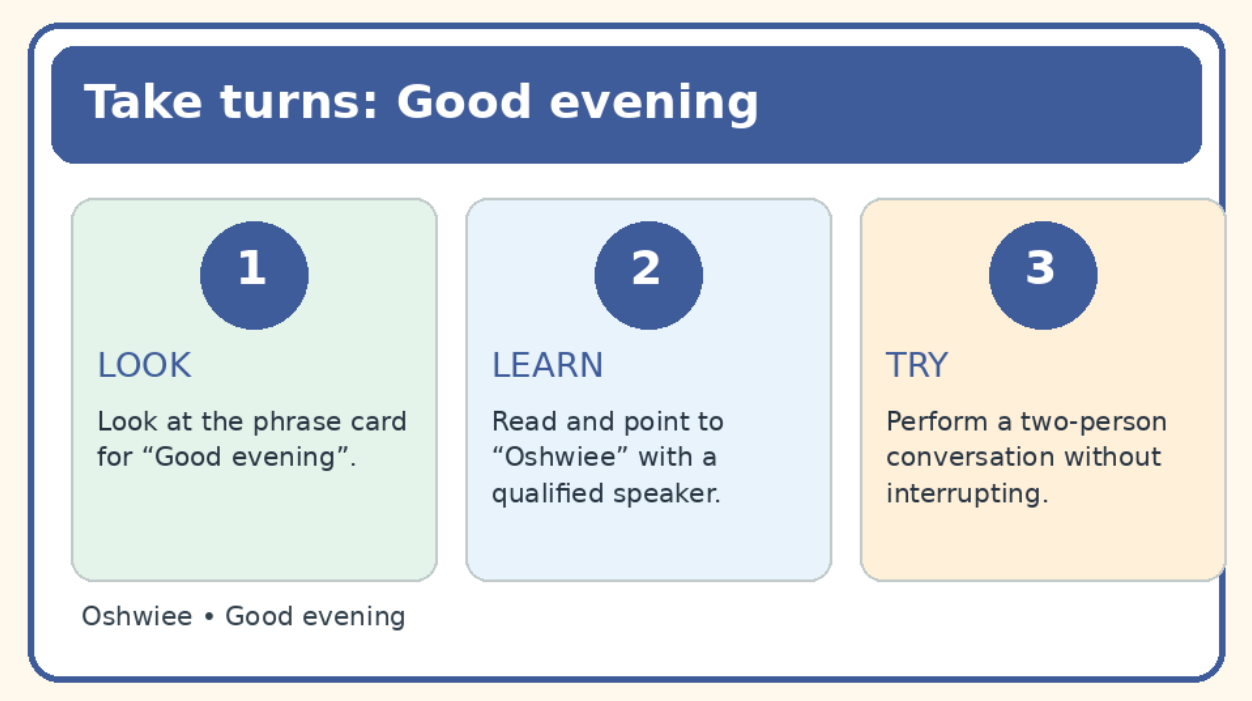

Play (5 questions)

1. Speak clearly: Good afternoon — Which Ga phrase means “Good afternoon”?
2. Speak clearly: Good afternoon — What is the meaning of “M'naokoo”?
3. Speak clearly: Good afternoon — Which learning action starts this task?
4. Speak clearly: Good afternoon — Which action helps you practise speaking?
5. Speak clearly: Good afternoon — Which material helps you read the expression?

Challenge (10 questions)

1. Speak clearly: Good afternoon — When should “M'naokoo” be used?
2. Speak clearly: Good afternoon — Which phrase should be placed on the matching meaning card “Good afternoon”?
3. Speak clearly: Good afternoon — Which step comes after looking at the phrase card?
4. Speak clearly: Good afternoon — How should you check a difficult Ga sound?
5. Speak clearly: Good afternoon — Which task shows the expression in context?
6. Speak clearly: Good afternoon — Which behaviour respects different home languages?
7. Speak clearly: Good afternoon — Why should tone and pronunciation be checked?
8. Speak clearly: Good afternoon — Which activity best prepares you to write “M'naokoo”?
9. Speak clearly: Good afternoon — How can you demonstrate reading comprehension here?
10. Speak clearly: Good afternoon — What should you do if a native speaker suggests a correction?

Lesson 3: Take turns: Good evening

The expression “Oshwiee” is used for “Good evening”. Practise a respectful exchange and allow your partner to respond. Explain which situation calls for the expression. Correct tone and pronunciation should be modelled by a qualified speaker of Ga.

Phrase: Oshwiee — Good evening

Try: Perform a two-person conversation without interrupting.

Reflect: Where would you use “Oshwiee”? Explain in your own words.

Play (5 questions)

1. Take turns: Good evening — Which Ga phrase means “Good evening”?
2. Take turns: Good evening — What is the meaning of “Oshwiee”?
3. Take turns: Good evening — Which learning action starts this task?
4. Take turns: Good evening — Which action helps you practise speaking?
5. Take turns: Good evening — Which material helps you read the expression?

Challenge (10 questions)

1. Take turns: Good evening — When should “Oshwiee” be used?
2. Take turns: Good evening — Which phrase should be placed on the matching meaning card “Good evening”?
3. Take turns: Good evening — Which step comes after looking at the phrase card?
4. Take turns: Good evening — How should you check a difficult Ga sound?
5. Take turns: Good evening — Which task shows the expression in context?
6. Take turns: Good evening — Which behaviour respects different home languages?
7. Take turns: Good evening — Why should tone and pronunciation be checked?
8. Take turns: Good evening — Which activity best prepares you to write “Oshwiee”?
9. Take turns: Good evening — How can you demonstrate reading comprehension here?
10. Take turns: Good evening — What should you do if a native speaker suggests a correction?

Lesson 4: Read the words: Thank you

The expression “Oyiwaladɔŋ” is used for “Thank you”. Follow the written phrase from left to right and notice its letters. Explain which situation calls for the expression. Correct tone and pronunciation should be modelled by a qualified speaker of Ga.

Phrase: Oyiwaladɔŋ — Thank you

Try: Read the phrase and match it to its meaning.

Reflect: Where would you use “Oyiwaladɔŋ”? Explain in your own words.

Play (5 questions)

1. Read the words: Thank you — Which Ga phrase means “Thank you”?
2. Read the words: Thank you — What is the meaning of “Oyiwaladɔŋ”?
3. Read the words: Thank you — Which learning action starts this task?
4. Read the words: Thank you — Which action helps you practise speaking?
5. Read the words: Thank you — Which material helps you read the expression?

Challenge (10 questions)

1. Read the words: Thank you — When should “Oyiwaladɔŋ” be used?
2. Read the words: Thank you — Which phrase should be placed on the matching meaning card “Thank you”?
3. Read the words: Thank you — Which step comes after looking at the phrase card?
4. Read the words: Thank you — How should you check a difficult Ga sound?
5. Read the words: Thank you — Which task shows the expression in context?
6. Read the words: Thank you — Which behaviour respects different home languages?
7. Read the words: Thank you — Why should tone and pronunciation be checked?
8. Read the words: Thank you — Which activity best prepares you to write “Oyiwaladɔŋ”?
9. Read the words: Thank you — How can you demonstrate reading comprehension here?
10. Read the words: Thank you — What should you do if a native speaker suggests a correction?

Lesson 5: Write the words: Welcome

The expression “Miifala” is used for “Welcome”. Copy the phrase carefully, including accents and special letters. Explain which situation calls for the expression. Correct tone and pronunciation should be modelled by a qualified speaker of Ga.

Phrase: Miifala — Welcome

Try: Write a neat phrase card and compare it with the model.

Reflect: Where would you use “Miifala”? Explain in your own words.

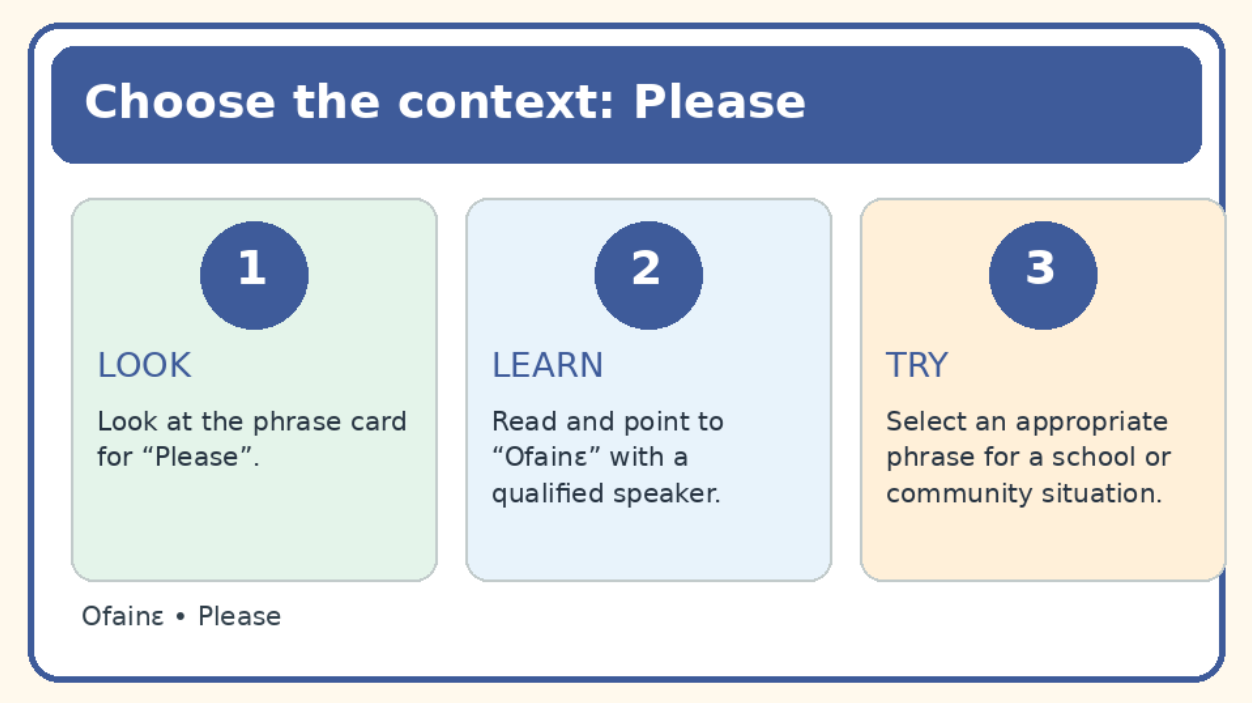

Play (5 questions)

1. Write the words: Welcome — Which Ga phrase means “Welcome”?
2. Write the words: Welcome — What is the meaning of “Miifala”?
3. Write the words: Welcome — Which learning action starts this task?
4. Write the words: Welcome — Which action helps you practise speaking?
5. Write the words: Welcome — Which material helps you read the expression?

Challenge (10 questions)

1. Write the words: Welcome — When should “Miifala” be used?
2. Write the words: Welcome — Which phrase should be placed on the matching meaning card “Welcome”?
3. Write the words: Welcome — Which step comes after looking at the phrase card?
4. Write the words: Welcome — How should you check a difficult Ga sound?
5. Write the words: Welcome — Which task shows the expression in context?
6. Write the words: Welcome — Which behaviour respects different home languages?
7. Write the words: Welcome — Why should tone and pronunciation be checked?
8. Write the words: Welcome — Which activity best prepares you to write “Miifala”?
9. Write the words: Welcome — How can you demonstrate reading comprehension here?
10. Write the words: Welcome — What should you do if a native speaker suggests a correction?

Lesson 6: Choose the context: Please

The expression “Ofainɛ” is used for “Please”. Discuss how the social setting changes what we say. Explain which situation calls for the expression. Correct tone and pronunciation should be modelled by a qualified speaker of Ga.

Phrase: Ofainɛ — Please

Try: Select an appropriate phrase for a school or community situation.

Reflect: Where would you use “Ofainɛ”? Explain in your own words.

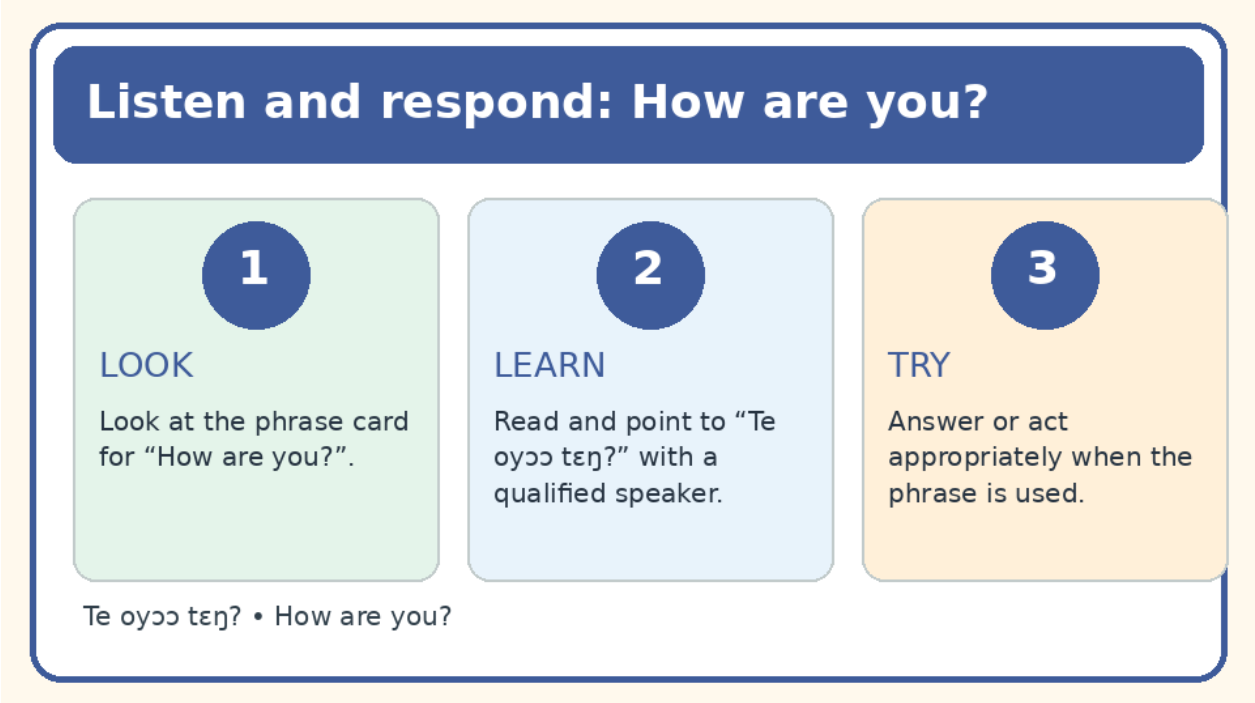

Play (5 questions)

1. Choose the context: Please — Which Ga phrase means “Please”?
2. Choose the context: Please — What is the meaning of “Ofainɛ”?
3. Choose the context: Please — Which learning action starts this task?
4. Choose the context: Please — Which action helps you practise speaking?
5. Choose the context: Please — Which material helps you read the expression?

Challenge (10 questions)

1. Choose the context: Please — When should “Ofainɛ” be used?
2. Choose the context: Please — Which phrase should be placed on the matching meaning card “Please”?
3. Choose the context: Please — Which step comes after looking at the phrase card?
4. Choose the context: Please — How should you check a difficult Ga sound?
5. Choose the context: Please — Which task shows the expression in context?
6. Choose the context: Please — Which behaviour respects different home languages?
7. Choose the context: Please — Why should tone and pronunciation be checked?
8. Choose the context: Please — Which activity best prepares you to write “Ofainɛ”?
9. Choose the context: Please — How can you demonstrate reading comprehension here?
10. Choose the context: Please — What should you do if a native speaker suggests a correction?

Lesson 7: Listen and respond: How are you?

The expression “Te oyɔɔ tɛŋ?” is used for “How are you?”. Listen for meaning rather than guessing from a single sound. Explain which situation calls for the expression. Correct tone and pronunciation should be modelled by a qualified speaker of Ga.

Phrase: Te oyɔɔ tɛŋ? — How are you?

Try: Answer or act appropriately when the phrase is used.

Reflect: Where would you use “Te oyɔɔ tɛŋ?”? Explain in your own words.

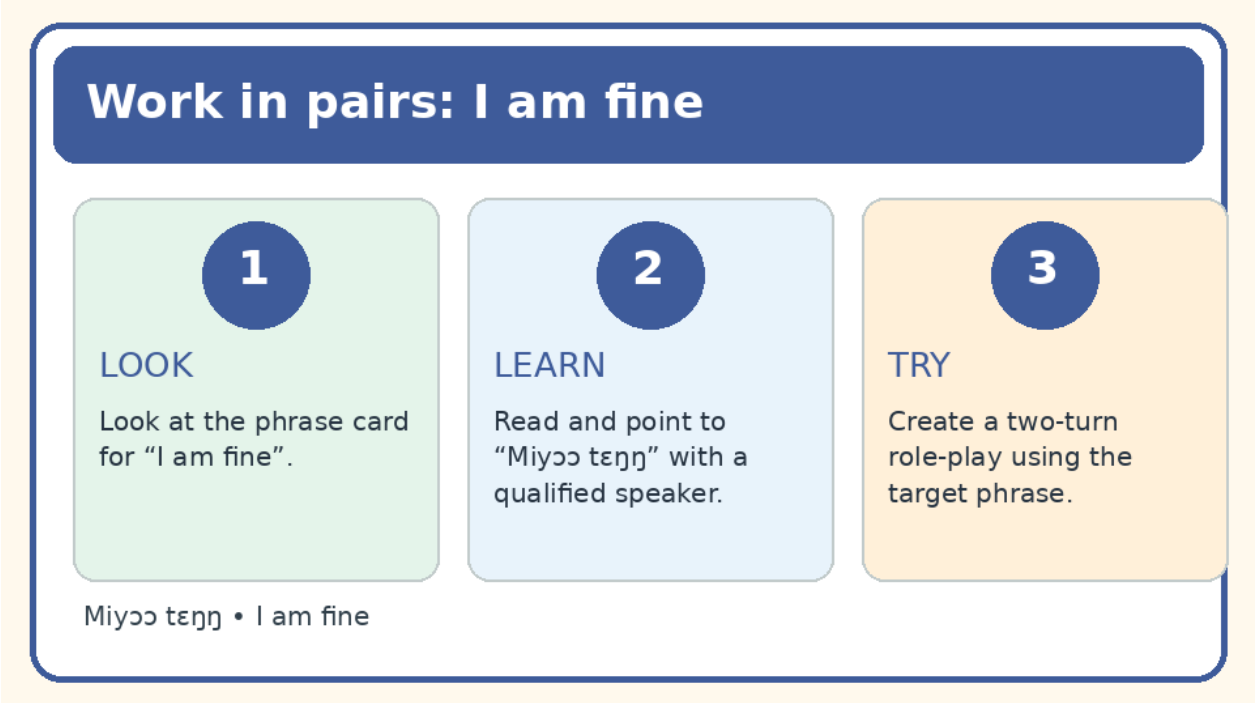

Play (5 questions)

1. Listen and respond: How are you? — Which Ga phrase means “How are you?”?
2. Listen and respond: How are you? — What is the meaning of “Te oyɔɔ tɛŋ?”?
3. Listen and respond: How are you? — Which learning action starts this task?
4. Listen and respond: How are you? — Which action helps you practise speaking?
5. Listen and respond: How are you? — Which material helps you read the expression?

Challenge (10 questions)

1. Listen and respond: How are you? — When should “Te oyɔɔ tɛŋ?” be used?
2. Listen and respond: How are you? — Which phrase should be placed on the matching meaning card “How are you?”?
3. Listen and respond: How are you? — Which step comes after looking at the phrase card?
4. Listen and respond: How are you? — How should you check a difficult Ga sound?
5. Listen and respond: How are you? — Which task shows the expression in context?
6. Listen and respond: How are you? — Which behaviour respects different home languages?
7. Listen and respond: How are you? — Why should tone and pronunciation be checked?
8. Listen and respond: How are you? — Which activity best prepares you to write “Te oyɔɔ tɛŋ?”?
9. Listen and respond: How are you? — How can you demonstrate reading comprehension here?
10. Listen and respond: How are you? — What should you do if a native speaker suggests a correction?

Lesson 8: Work in pairs: I am fine

The expression “Miyɔɔ tɛŋŋ” is used for “I am fine”. Share roles and practise speaking and listening respectfully. Explain which situation calls for the expression. Correct tone and pronunciation should be modelled by a qualified speaker of Ga.

Phrase: Miyɔɔ tɛŋŋ — I am fine

Try: Create a two-turn role-play using the target phrase.

Reflect: Where would you use “Miyɔɔ tɛŋŋ”? Explain in your own words.

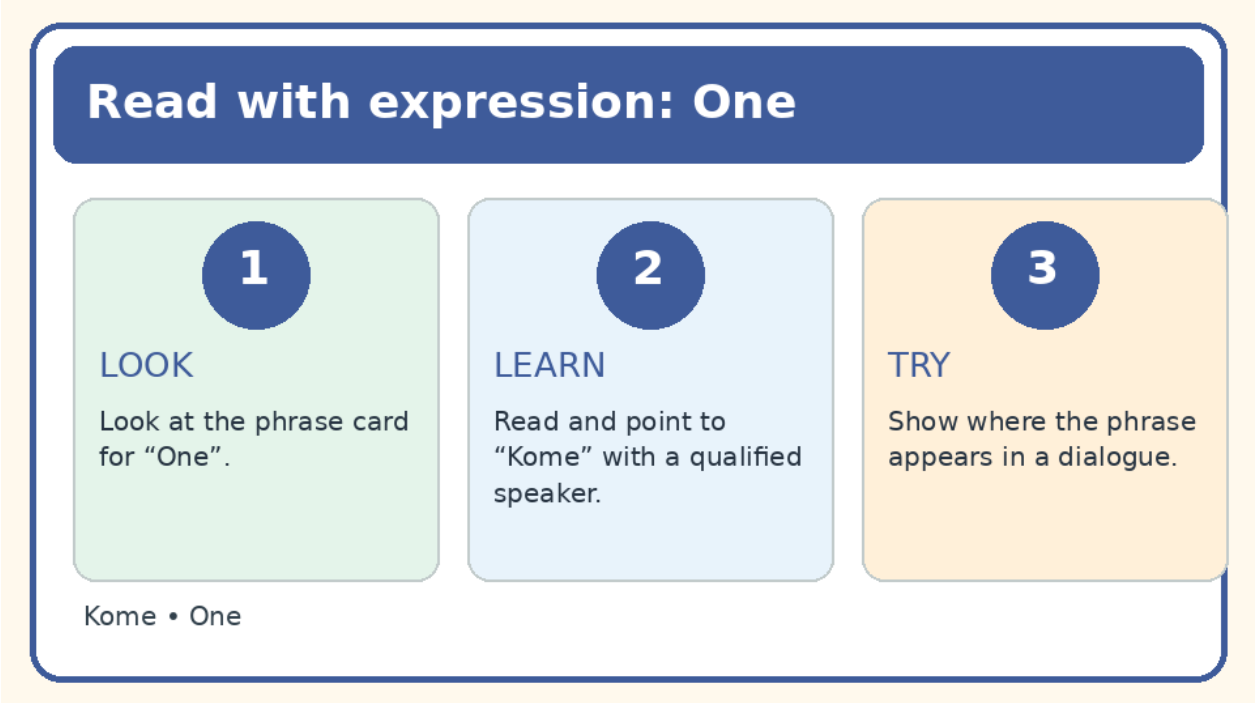

Play (5 questions)

1. Work in pairs: I am fine — Which Ga phrase means “I am fine”?
2. Work in pairs: I am fine — What is the meaning of “Miyɔɔ tɛŋŋ”?
3. Work in pairs: I am fine — Which learning action starts this task?
4. Work in pairs: I am fine — Which action helps you practise speaking?
5. Work in pairs: I am fine — Which material helps you read the expression?

Challenge (10 questions)

1. Work in pairs: I am fine — When should “Miyɔɔ tɛŋŋ” be used?
2. Work in pairs: I am fine — Which phrase should be placed on the matching meaning card “I am fine”?
3. Work in pairs: I am fine — Which step comes after looking at the phrase card?
4. Work in pairs: I am fine — How should you check a difficult Ga sound?
5. Work in pairs: I am fine — Which task shows the expression in context?
6. Work in pairs: I am fine — Which behaviour respects different home languages?
7. Work in pairs: I am fine — Why should tone and pronunciation be checked?
8. Work in pairs: I am fine — Which activity best prepares you to write “Miyɔɔ tɛŋŋ”?
9. Work in pairs: I am fine — How can you demonstrate reading comprehension here?
10. Work in pairs: I am fine — What should you do if a native speaker suggests a correction?

Lesson 9: Read with expression: One

The expression “Kome” is used for “One”. Read a short dialogue and point to the target phrase. Explain which situation calls for the expression. Correct tone and pronunciation should be modelled by a qualified speaker of Ga.

Phrase: Kome — One

Try: Show where the phrase appears in a dialogue.

Reflect: Where would you use “Kome”? Explain in your own words.

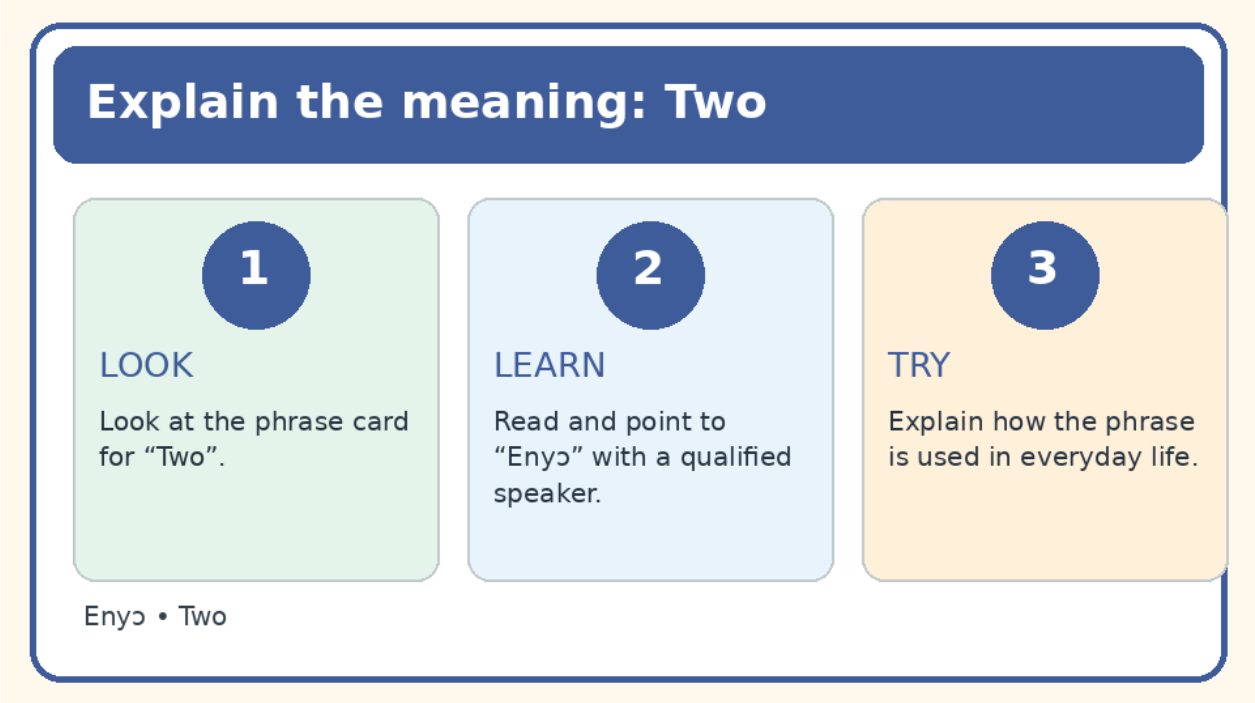

Play (5 questions)

1. Read with expression: One — Which Ga phrase means “One”?
2. Read with expression: One — What is the meaning of “Kome”?
3. Read with expression: One — Which learning action starts this task?
4. Read with expression: One — Which action helps you practise speaking?
5. Read with expression: One — Which material helps you read the expression?

Challenge (10 questions)

1. Read with expression: One — When should “Kome” be used?
2. Read with expression: One — Which phrase should be placed on the matching meaning card “One”?
3. Read with expression: One — Which step comes after looking at the phrase card?
4. Read with expression: One — How should you check a difficult Ga sound?
5. Read with expression: One — Which task shows the expression in context?
6. Read with expression: One — Which behaviour respects different home languages?
7. Read with expression: One — Why should tone and pronunciation be checked?
8. Read with expression: One — Which activity best prepares you to write “Kome”?
9. Read with expression: One — How can you demonstrate reading comprehension here?
10. Read with expression: One — What should you do if a native speaker suggests a correction?

Lesson 10: Explain the meaning: Two

The expression “Enyɔ” is used for “Two”. Compare the local-language phrase with its English meaning. Explain which situation calls for the expression. Correct tone and pronunciation should be modelled by a qualified speaker of Ga.

Phrase: Enyɔ — Two

Try: Explain how the phrase is used in everyday life.

Reflect: Where would you use “Enyɔ”? Explain in your own words.

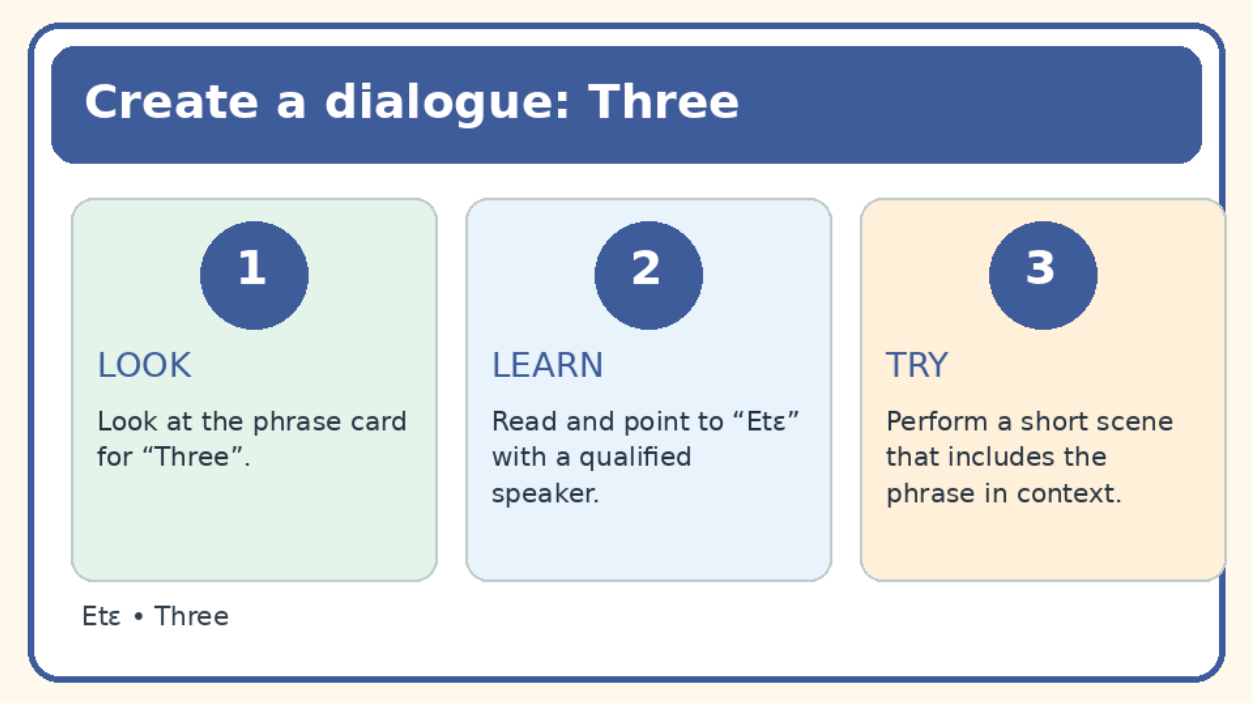

Play (5 questions)

1. Explain the meaning: Two — Which Ga phrase means “Two”?
2. Explain the meaning: Two — What is the meaning of “Enyɔ”?
3. Explain the meaning: Two — Which learning action starts this task?
4. Explain the meaning: Two — Which action helps you practise speaking?
5. Explain the meaning: Two — Which material helps you read the expression?

Challenge (10 questions)

1. Explain the meaning: Two — When should “Enyɔ” be used?
2. Explain the meaning: Two — Which phrase should be placed on the matching meaning card “Two”?
3. Explain the meaning: Two — Which step comes after looking at the phrase card?
4. Explain the meaning: Two — How should you check a difficult Ga sound?
5. Explain the meaning: Two — Which task shows the expression in context?
6. Explain the meaning: Two — Which behaviour respects different home languages?
7. Explain the meaning: Two — Why should tone and pronunciation be checked?
8. Explain the meaning: Two — Which activity best prepares you to write “Enyɔ”?
9. Explain the meaning: Two — How can you demonstrate reading comprehension here?
10. Explain the meaning: Two — What should you do if a native speaker suggests a correction?

Lesson 11: Create a dialogue: Three

The expression “Etɛ” is used for “Three”. Plan an exchange with a beginning and an ending. Explain which situation calls for the expression. Correct tone and pronunciation should be modelled by a qualified speaker of Ga.

Phrase: Etɛ — Three

Try: Perform a short scene that includes the phrase in context.

Reflect: Where would you use “Etɛ”? Explain in your own words.

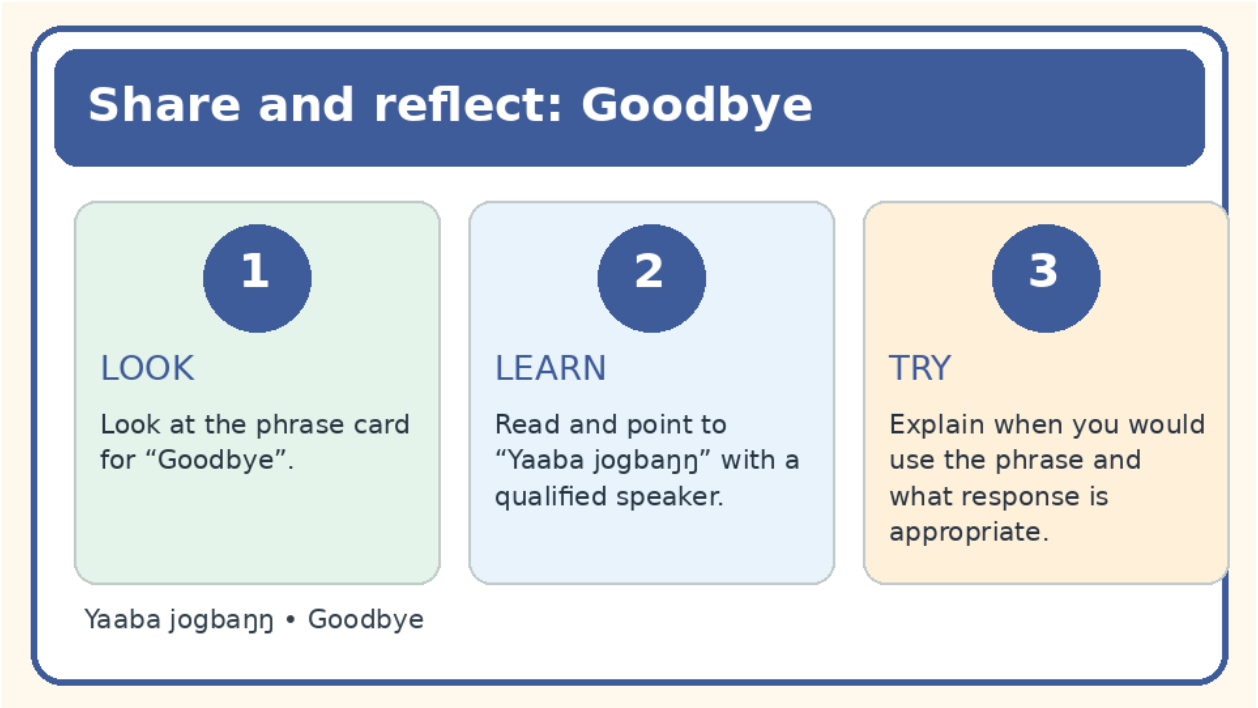

Play (5 questions)

1. Create a dialogue: Three — Which Ga phrase means “Three”?
2. Create a dialogue: Three — What is the meaning of “Etɛ”?
3. Create a dialogue: Three — Which learning action starts this task?
4. Create a dialogue: Three — Which action helps you practise speaking?
5. Create a dialogue: Three — Which material helps you read the expression?

Challenge (10 questions)

1. Create a dialogue: Three — When should “Etɛ” be used?
2. Create a dialogue: Three — Which phrase should be placed on the matching meaning card “Three”?
3. Create a dialogue: Three — Which step comes after looking at the phrase card?
4. Create a dialogue: Three — How should you check a difficult Ga sound?
5. Create a dialogue: Three — Which task shows the expression in context?
6. Create a dialogue: Three — Which behaviour respects different home languages?
7. Create a dialogue: Three — Why should tone and pronunciation be checked?
8. Create a dialogue: Three — Which activity best prepares you to write “Etɛ”?
9. Create a dialogue: Three — How can you demonstrate reading comprehension here?
10. Create a dialogue: Three — What should you do if a native speaker suggests a correction?

Lesson 12: Share and reflect: Goodbye

The expression “Yaaba jogbaŋŋ” is used for “Goodbye”. Present a phrase card and consider constructive feedback. Explain which situation calls for the expression. Correct tone and pronunciation should be modelled by a qualified speaker of Ga.

Phrase: Yaaba jogbaŋŋ — Goodbye

Try: Explain when you would use the phrase and what response is appropriate.

Reflect: Where would you use “Yaaba jogbaŋŋ”? Explain in your own words.

Play (5 questions)

1. Share and reflect: Goodbye — Which Ga phrase means “Goodbye”?
2. Share and reflect: Goodbye — What is the meaning of “Yaaba jogbaŋŋ”?
3. Share and reflect: Goodbye — Which learning action starts this task?
4. Share and reflect: Goodbye — Which action helps you practise speaking?
5. Share and reflect: Goodbye — Which material helps you read the expression?

Challenge (10 questions)

1. Share and reflect: Goodbye — When should “Yaaba jogbaŋŋ” be used?
2. Share and reflect: Goodbye — Which phrase should be placed on the matching meaning card “Goodbye”?
3. Share and reflect: Goodbye — Which step comes after looking at the phrase card?
4. Share and reflect: Goodbye — How should you check a difficult Ga sound?
5. Share and reflect: Goodbye — Which task shows the expression in context?
6. Share and reflect: Goodbye — Which behaviour respects different home languages?
7. Share and reflect: Goodbye — Why should tone and pronunciation be checked?
8. Share and reflect: Goodbye — Which activity best prepares you to write “Yaaba jogbaŋŋ”?
9. Share and reflect: Goodbye — How can you demonstrate reading comprehension here?
10. Share and reflect: Goodbye — What should you do if a native speaker suggests a correction?