CREATIVE ARTS • BASIC 6

Illustrated learning workbook

Visual Arts + Performing Arts | Explore • Make • Display • Appreciate

LESSON 01 • Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth

LESSON 02 • Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat

20 illustrated lessons · 5 Play and 10 Challenge questions for every lesson · practical teacher observation tasks

Learners explore ideas, make or compose a work, share it, and describe what they would improve. Videos are in the multimedia eBook and offline interactive course; their matching three-step visuals appear on the printed pages.

LESSON 01 • Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth

Visual Arts / Explore / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will notice how art can carry cultural meaning. You will create a motif study using a patterned fabric scrap, paper and crayons.

Do it in three steps

1. Look at a cloth pattern and point to its repeated marks.
2. Sketch two repeated shapes from the cloth onto paper.
3. Add one personal variation and explain what it represents. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of pattern. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a motif study, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Ask before touching another person’s cloth.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a labelled pattern sketch and shape and meaning. Also try this: compare the pattern with a friend’s observation.

PLAY • Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. an open space and a gentle drum pulse

B. completed learner artworks, labels and removable tape

C. one displayed artwork and an observation note

D. a patterned fabric scrap, paper and crayons

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. Listen to a short local rhythm and count its pulses.

B. Choose one clear message about a community need.

C. Look at a cloth pattern and point to its repeated marks.

D. Watch or listen carefully without interrupting.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. a motif study

B. a restaged performance

C. a body-percussion pattern

D. a two-part song plan

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. movement

B. visual communication

C. pattern

D. sound

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. a coordinated class performance

B. a before-and-after artwork comparison

C. a labelled pattern sketch

D. a stable pinched bowl

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth”, what is the second step?

A. Sketch two repeated shapes from the cloth onto paper.

B. Choose claps and thigh taps to fill the beat spaces.

C. Rehearse a concrete change as a group.

D. Echo the pulse by tapping softly four times.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth” activity?

A. Make the change and explain how the second version improved.

B. Add one personal variation and explain what it represents. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

C. Perform the pattern twice and check for a steady pulse.

D. Perform the sounds in order to represent morning, afternoon or evening.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

B. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

C. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

D. Ask before touching another person’s cloth.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. build and repeat a rhythmic pattern

B. revise a work thoughtfully

C. strengthen performance through reflection

D. notice how art can carry cultural meaning

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. a person who is never shown the work

B. the materials supplier only

C. only the teacher’s desk

D. classmates

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. organisation and care

B. organisation and respect

C. clear turns

D. shape and meaning

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth”?

A. ask a partner which colour is easiest to see

B. compare the pattern with a friend’s observation

C. invite the original reviewer to compare the two versions

D. let a second group test whether the response is easy to learn

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth” at Basic 6?

A. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

B. international artists and communities around the world

C. one random colour without comparing international works

D. a single invented example with no source

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a review that ignores the work entirely

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. a guess about pattern without checking the finished work

D. a labelled pattern sketch, supported by what you noticed or changed

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Find Stories in Cloth” work after feedback?

A. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

B. to improve shape and meaning

C. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

D. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 02 • Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat

Performing Arts / Explore / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will recognise pulse and respectful listening. You will create a rhythmic echo using hands, a soft drum or a safe plastic container.

Do it in three steps

1. Listen to a short local rhythm and count its pulses.
2. Echo the pulse by tapping softly four times.
3. Perform the pulse with a partner, starting and stopping together. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of pulse. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a rhythmic echo, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Keep the sound comfortable for nearby listeners.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a steady four-pulse performance and steady timing. Also try this: invite a partner to lead the next four beats.

PLAY • Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. an earlier performance plan and feedback from classmates

B. a class composition, simple programme and safe stage area

C. hands, a soft drum or a safe plastic container

D. clean scrap paper, glue, cardboard and blunt scissors

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. Listen to a short local rhythm and count its pulses.

B. Observe the pot rim, body, base and any decoration.

C. Choose a character and identify one important action.

D. Identify one timing or storytelling issue from feedback.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. a body-percussion pattern

B. a rhythmic echo

C. a restaged performance

D. a revised artwork

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. pulse

B. volume

C. composition

D. movement

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. a steady four-pulse performance

B. a before-and-after artwork comparison

C. a labelled and accessible classroom display

D. a repeatable dance phrase

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat”, what is the second step?

A. Sketch two repeated shapes from the cloth onto paper.

B. Place the works where viewers can see them without crowding.

C. Invent an easy response of similar length.

D. Echo the pulse by tapping softly four times.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat” activity?

A. Act the scene once and revise a confusing gesture.

B. Perform the sounds in order to represent morning, afternoon or evening.

C. Perform the pulse with a partner, starting and stopping together. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

D. Suggest one useful change and say how to rehearse it.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. Keep the sound comfortable for nearby listeners.

B. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

C. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

D. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. select colours intentionally

B. recognise pulse and respectful listening

C. explore repeated structure through weaving

D. represent a place through organised sounds

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. a person who is never shown the work

B. the materials supplier only

C. listening group

D. only the teacher’s desk

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. improvement and cooperation

B. steady timing

C. organisation and care

D. regular pattern

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat”?

A. ask a partner which colour is easiest to see

B. ask a partner to clap the pattern from your grid

C. invite a partner to lead the next four beats

D. teach your phrase to one partner without collisions

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat” at Basic 6?

A. international artists and communities around the world

B. one random colour without comparing international works

C. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

D. a single invented example with no source

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a steady four-pulse performance, supported by what you noticed or changed

B. a guess about pulse without checking the finished work

C. a review that ignores the work entirely

D. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Hear the Community Beat” work after feedback?

A. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

B. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

C. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

D. to improve steady timing

Artist’s reflection

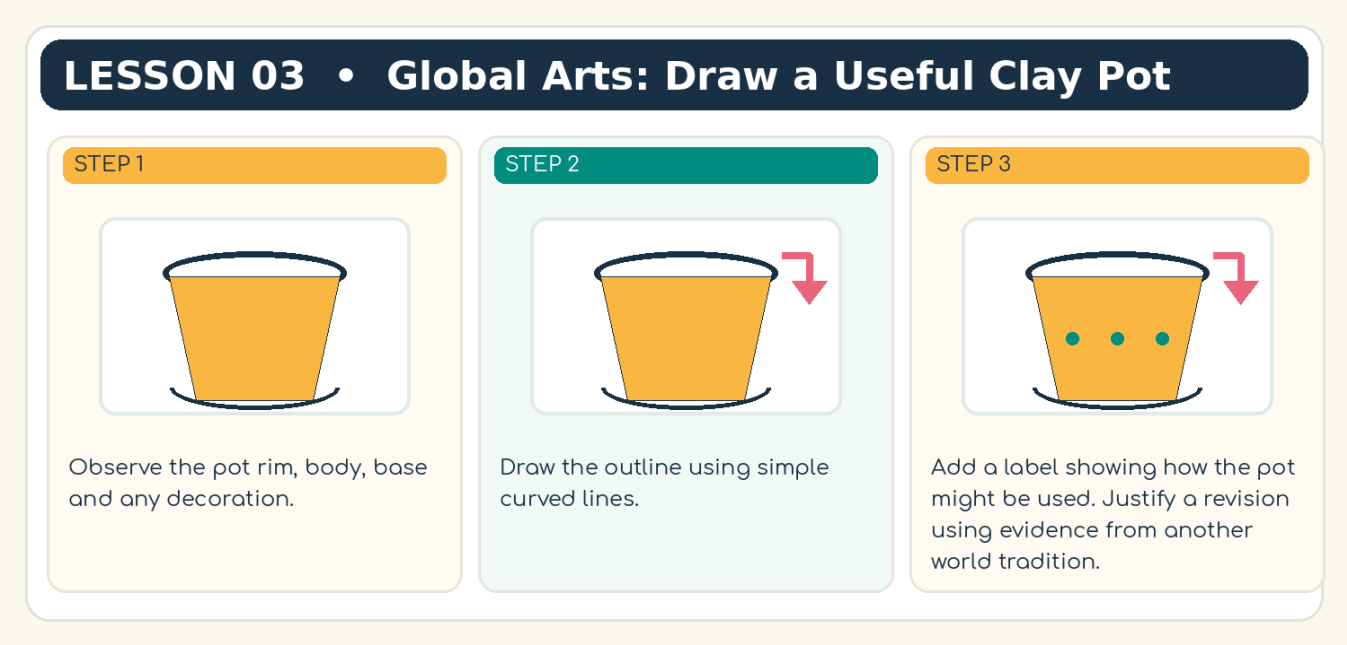

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 03 • Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot

Visual Arts / Explore / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will connect the form of a useful object to its function. You will create a functional pot sketch using a picture or safe sample of a clay pot, pencil and paper.

Do it in three steps

1. Observe the pot rim, body, base and any decoration.
2. Draw the outline using simple curved lines.
3. Add a label showing how the pot might be used. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of form. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a functional pot sketch, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Do not handle fragile or heavy pots without adult help.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for an annotated pot drawing and shape and function. Also try this: compare narrow and wide pot openings.

PLAY • Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. clean scrap paper, glue, cardboard and blunt scissors

B. completed learner artworks, labels and removable tape

C. a class composition, simple programme and safe stage area

D. a picture or safe sample of a clay pot, pencil and paper

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. Observe the pot rim, body, base and any decoration.

B. Assign a speaker, listener and narrator for a short scene.

C. Choose one clear message about a community need.

D. Describe visible lines, colours, textures and shapes.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. a sound story

B. a functional pot sketch

C. a colour plan

D. a woven paper mat

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. movement

B. call and response

C. form

D. composition

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. an annotated pot drawing

B. a readable community poster

C. an over-under paper mat

D. a balanced performance review

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”, what is the second step?

A. Press a thumb gently into the centre and pinch the sides evenly.

B. Echo the pulse by tapping softly four times.

C. Draw the outline using simple curved lines.

D. Sketch two repeated shapes from the cloth onto paper.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot” activity?

A. Repeat the sequence and straighten the finished pattern.

B. Add a label showing how the pot might be used. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

C. Circle the most readable combination and plan where to use it.

D. Add one personal variation and explain what it represents.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

B. Do not handle fragile or heavy pots without adult help.

C. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

D. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. revise a work thoughtfully

B. appreciate work using evidence

C. connect the form of a useful object to its function

D. use art to communicate a helpful message

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. a person who is never shown the work

B. the materials supplier only

C. only the teacher’s desk

D. study group

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. expression and clarity

B. shape and function

C. message and readability

D. composition and care

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot”?

A. ask classmates what action the poster encourages

B. show which reused material became the focal point

C. let a second group test whether the response is easy to learn

D. compare narrow and wide pot openings

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot” at Basic 6?

A. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

B. one random colour without comparing international works

C. a single invented example with no source

D. international artists and communities around the world

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a review that ignores the work entirely

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. an annotated pot drawing, supported by what you noticed or changed

D. a guess about form without checking the finished work

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Draw a Useful Clay Pot” work after feedback?

A. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

B. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

C. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

D. to improve shape and function

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 04 • Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures

Performing Arts / Explore / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will communicate ideas through body movement. You will create a silent story using a short community story and an open safe space.

Do it in three steps

1. Choose a character and identify one important action.

2. Try three gestures that communicate the action without words.

3. Show your gesture sequence while a friend identifies the story. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of gesture. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a silent story, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Use an open space and avoid pushing or sudden jumps.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a three-gesture story and expression and clarity. Also try this: swap roles between performer and audience.

PLAY • Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. one short class performance and a two-column note

B. a short community story and an open safe space

C. a class composition, simple programme and safe stage area

D. an earlier performance plan and feedback from classmates

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. Sort clean paper by colour and select pieces for your picture.

B. Choose two safe steps that suit the chosen rhythm.

C. Choose one clear message about a community need.

D. Choose a character and identify one important action.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. an artwork response

B. a public message poster

C. a revised artwork

D. a silent story

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. composition

B. movement

C. gesture

D. visual communication

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. a three-gesture story

B. a reasoned art observation

C. a coordinated class performance

D. a three-part soundscape

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures”, what is the second step?

A. Try three gestures that communicate the action without words.

B. Test the colours in small labelled boxes.

C. Draw the outline using simple curved lines.

D. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures” activity?

A. Repeat the sequence and straighten the finished pattern.

B. Show your gesture sequence while a friend identifies the story. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

C. Add one personal variation and explain what it represents.

D. Perform the pulse with a partner, starting and stopping together.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

B. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

C. Use an open space and avoid pushing or sudden jumps.

D. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. strengthen performance through reflection

B. communicate ideas through body movement

C. explore repeated structure through weaving

D. appreciate work using evidence

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. the materials supplier only

B. a person who is never shown the work

C. class audience

D. only the teacher’s desk

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. expression and clarity

B. shape and function

C. shape and meaning

D. composition and care

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures”?

A. record group decisions in a simple rehearsal journal

B. swap roles between performer and audience

C. show which reused material became the focal point

D. invite a partner to lead the next four beats

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures” at Basic 6?

A. international artists and communities around the world

B. a single invented example with no source

C. one random colour without comparing international works

D. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a guess about gesture without checking the finished work

B. a three-gesture story, supported by what you noticed or changed

C. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

D. a review that ignores the work entirely

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Tell a Story with Gestures” work after feedback?

A. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

B. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

C. to improve expression and clarity

D. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 05 • Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan

Visual Arts / Plan / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will select colours intentionally. You will create a colour plan using crayons, scrap paper and a drawing sheet.

Do it in three steps

1. Choose three colours that suit your chosen message.
2. Test the colours in small labelled boxes.
3. Circle the most readable combination and plan where to use it. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of colour. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a colour plan, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Keep crayons off the floor to prevent slips.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a labelled colour test and contrast and choice. Also try this: ask a partner which colour is easiest to see.

PLAY • Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. an open space and a gentle drum pulse

B. an earlier performance plan and feedback from classmates

C. one displayed artwork and an observation note

D. crayons, scrap paper and a drawing sheet

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. Look at a cloth pattern and point to its repeated marks.

B. Agree on the order of songs, dance or drama items.

C. Observe the pot rim, body, base and any decoration.

D. Choose three colours that suit your chosen message.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. an artwork response

B. a woven paper mat

C. a restaged performance

D. a colour plan

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. composition

B. colour

C. gesture

D. volume

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. a repeatable dance phrase

B. a readable community poster

C. a labelled colour test

D. a labelled and accessible classroom display

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan”, what is the second step?

A. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit.

B. Practise lines with clear facial expression and turn-taking.

C. Test the colours in small labelled boxes.

D. Arrange pieces on cardboard before applying glue.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan” activity?

A. Repeat the sequence and straighten the finished pattern.

B. Circle the most readable combination and plan where to use it. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

C. Restage the piece and explain the difference between the two versions.

D. Stick the pieces down and explain the main image.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

B. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

C. Keep crayons off the floor to prevent slips.

D. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. select colours intentionally

B. represent a place through organised sounds

C. present performance work as a team

D. share artworks with an audience

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. a person who is never shown the work

B. design partner

C. only the teacher’s desk

D. the materials supplier only

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. message and readability

B. sequence and control

C. contrast and choice

D. clear turns

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan”?

A. ask a partner which colour is easiest to see

B. invite a classmate to describe a favourite visible detail

C. invite the original reviewer to compare the two versions

D. ask a partner to clap the pattern from your grid

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan” at Basic 6?

A. a single invented example with no source

B. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

C. one random colour without comparing international works

D. international artists and communities around the world

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a review that ignores the work entirely

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. a guess about colour without checking the finished work

D. a labelled colour test, supported by what you noticed or changed

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Make a Colour Plan” work after feedback?

A. to improve contrast and choice

B. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

C. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

D. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 06 • Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song

Performing Arts / Plan / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will compose a simple shared musical phrase. You will create a two-part song plan using voice and a short original two-line phrase.

Do it in three steps

1. Write or say a short call about caring for people or places.
2. Invent an easy response of similar length.
3. Practise taking turns as leader and responding group. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of call and response. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a two-part song plan, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Sing at a comfortable volume; do not strain the voice.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a call and its matching response and clear turns. Also try this: let a second group test whether the response is easy to learn.

PLAY • Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. soft modelling clay or dough and a washable work mat

B. a class composition, simple programme and safe stage area

C. voice and a short original two-line phrase

D. a short original dialogue and simple safe props

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. Describe visible lines, colours, textures and shapes.

B. Read or listen to one helpful comment on the draft.

C. Write or say a short call about caring for people or places.

D. List three sounds heard in the chosen setting.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. a performance showcase

B. a mini exhibition

C. a two-part song plan

D. a sound story

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. form

B. call and response

C. reflection

D. pattern

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. a labelled colour test

B. a repeatable beat grid and performance

C. a balanced performance review

D. a call and its matching response

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”, what is the second step?

A. Invent an easy response of similar length.

B. Draw a bold image that supports the message.

C. Practise lines with clear facial expression and turn-taking.

D. Echo the pulse by tapping softly four times.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song” activity?

A. Guide visitors to observe one artwork and ask a respectful question.

B. Make the change and explain how the second version improved.

C. Perform the phrase twice with control and enough personal space.

D. Practise taking turns as leader and responding group. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. Sing at a comfortable volume; do not strain the voice.

B. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

C. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

D. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. use art to communicate a helpful message

B. compose a simple shared musical phrase

C. coordinate movement with music

D. share artworks with an audience

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. the materials supplier only

B. only the teacher’s desk

C. singing team

D. a person who is never shown the work

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. clarity and teamwork

B. contrast and choice

C. clear turns

D. sequence and control

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song”?

A. name one place you see a similar pattern in daily life

B. compare two interpretations with evidence

C. let a second group test whether the response is easy to learn

D. ask a partner to clap the pattern from your grid

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song” at Basic 6?

A. a single invented example with no source

B. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

C. international artists and communities around the world

D. one random colour without comparing international works

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a review that ignores the work entirely

B. a guess about call and response without checking the finished work

C. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

D. a call and its matching response, supported by what you noticed or changed

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Plan a Call-and-Response Song” work after feedback?

A. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

B. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

C. to improve clear turns

D. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

Artist’s reflection

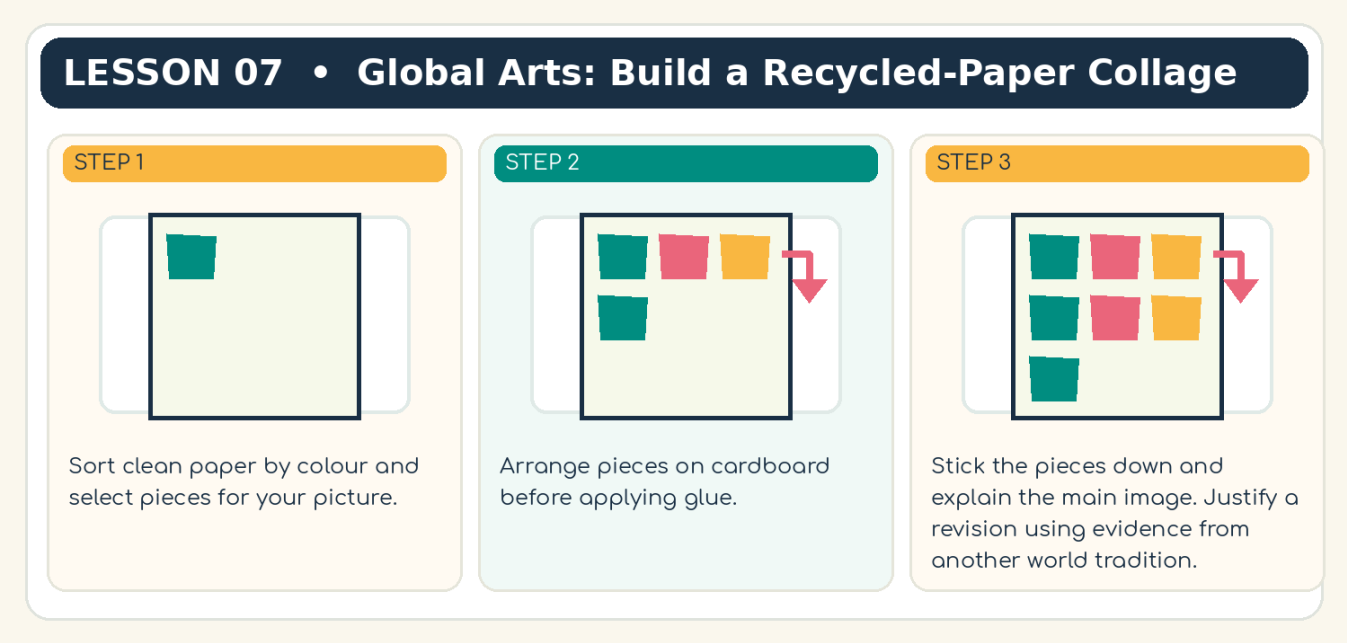

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 07 • Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage

Visual Arts / Make / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will reuse materials while arranging an image. You will create a recycled collage using clean scrap paper, glue, cardboard and blunt scissors.

Do it in three steps

1. Sort clean paper by colour and select pieces for your picture.
2. Arrange pieces on cardboard before applying glue.
3. Stick the pieces down and explain the main image. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of composition. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a recycled collage, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Use blunt scissors with supervision and never collect dirty waste.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a fixed paper collage and composition and care. Also try this: show which reused material became the focal point.

PLAY • Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. hands, feet and a written beat grid

B. clean scrap paper, glue, cardboard and blunt scissors

C. soft modelling clay or dough and a washable work mat

D. one short class performance and a two-column note

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. Sort clean paper by colour and select pieces for your picture.

B. Lay parallel paper strips on a desk as the base.

C. Observe the pot rim, body, base and any decoration.

D. Choose finished works and give each a title label.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. a recycled collage

B. a mini exhibition

C. a short dance composition

D. a public message poster

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. composition

B. staging

C. presentation

D. volume

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. a stable pinched bowl

B. a fixed paper collage

C. a labelled colour test

D. an improved final performance

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”, what is the second step?

A. Draw a bold image that supports the message.

B. Draw the outline using simple curved lines.

C. Arrange pieces on cardboard before applying glue.

D. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage” activity?

A. Stick the pieces down and explain the main image. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

B. Perform the sounds in order to represent morning, afternoon or evening.

C. Practise taking turns as leader and responding group.

D. Restage the piece and explain the difference between the two versions.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. Use blunt scissors with supervision and never collect dirty waste.

B. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

C. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

D. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. use art to communicate a helpful message

B. reuse materials while arranging an image

C. select colours intentionally

D. appreciate work using evidence

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. the materials supplier only

B. a person who is never shown the work

C. only the teacher’s desk

D. gallery visitors

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. specific respectful feedback

B. message and readability

C. composition and care

D. contrast and choice

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage”?

A. show which reused material became the focal point

B. perform the revised line for a second audience

C. name one place you see a similar pattern in daily life

D. ask classmates what action the poster encourages

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage” at Basic 6?

A. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

B. a single invented example with no source

C. one random colour without comparing international works

D. international artists and communities around the world

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a review that ignores the work entirely

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. a fixed paper collage, supported by what you noticed or changed

D. a guess about composition without checking the finished work

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Build a Recycled-Paper Collage” work after feedback?

A. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

B. to improve composition and care

C. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

D. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

Artist’s reflection

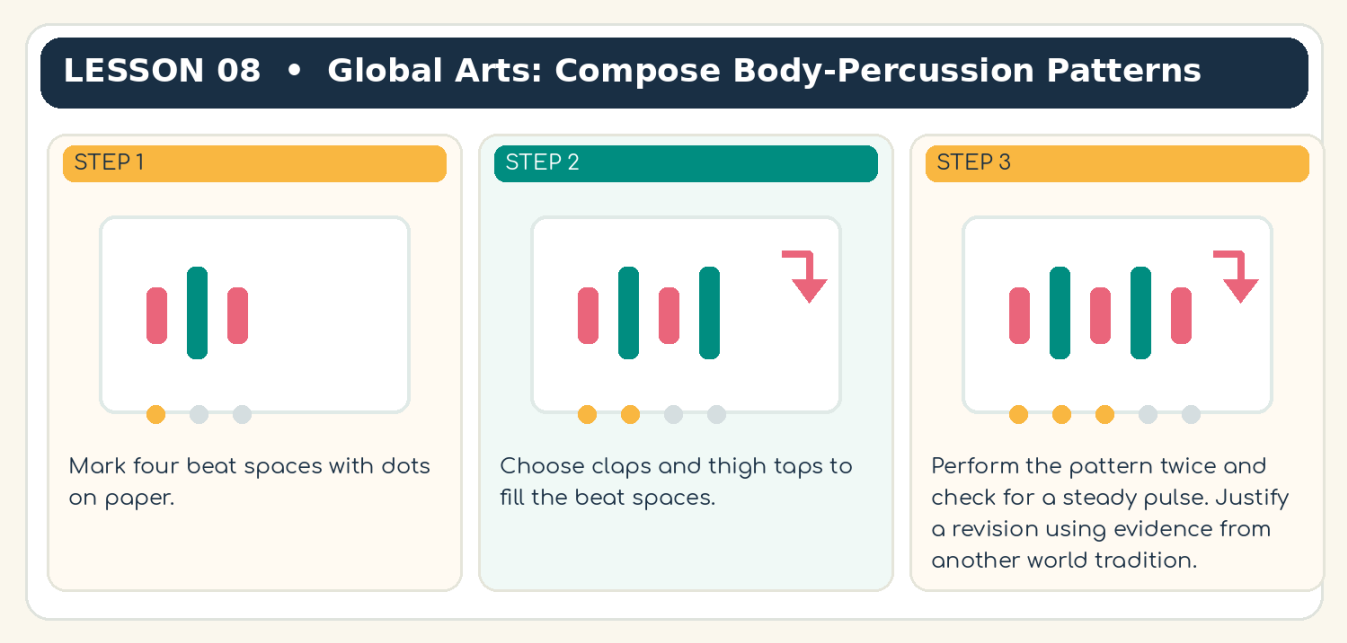

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 08 • Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns

Performing Arts / Make / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will build and repeat a rhythmic pattern. You will create a body-percussion pattern using hands, feet and a written beat grid.

Do it in three steps

1. Mark four beat spaces with dots on paper.
2. Choose claps and thigh taps to fill the beat spaces.
3. Perform the pattern twice and check for a steady pulse. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of rhythm. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a body-percussion pattern, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Tap gently and leave space between performers.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a repeatable beat grid and performance and sequence and control. Also try this: ask a partner to clap the pattern from your grid.

PLAY • Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. hands, feet and a written beat grid

B. completed learner artworks, labels and removable tape

C. a picture or safe sample of a clay pot, pencil and paper

D. clean scrap paper, glue, cardboard and blunt scissors

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. Observe the pot rim, body, base and any decoration.

B. Choose two safe steps that suit the chosen rhythm.

C. List three sounds heard in the chosen setting.

D. Mark four beat spaces with dots on paper.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. a body-percussion pattern

B. an artwork response

C. a public message poster

D. a colour plan

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. repetition

B. composition

C. staging

D. rhythm

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. a labelled colour test

B. a labelled pattern sketch

C. an annotated pot drawing

D. a repeatable beat grid and performance

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”, what is the second step?

A. Echo the pulse by tapping softly four times.

B. Invent an easy response of similar length.

C. Assign each sound to a gentle vocal or body action.

D. Choose claps and thigh taps to fill the beat spaces.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns” activity?

A. Perform the pattern twice and check for a steady pulse. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

B. Smooth the rim and show how the finished bowl can stand.

C. Add one personal variation and explain what it represents.

D. Circle the most readable combination and plan where to use it.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. Tap gently and leave space between performers.

B. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

C. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

D. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. strengthen performance through reflection

B. explore repeated structure through weaving

C. build and repeat a rhythmic pattern

D. select colours intentionally

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. the materials supplier only

B. only the teacher’s desk

C. a person who is never shown the work

D. peer musicians

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. specific respectful feedback

B. shape and meaning

C. composition and care

D. sequence and control

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns”?

A. ask a partner to clap the pattern from your grid

B. invite a partner to lead the next four beats

C. perform the revised line for a second audience

D. swap roles between performer and audience

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns” at Basic 6?

A. a single invented example with no source

B. one random colour without comparing international works

C. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

D. international artists and communities around the world

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a repeatable beat grid and performance, supported by what you noticed or changed

B. a review that ignores the work entirely

C. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

D. a guess about rhythm without checking the finished work

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Compose Body-Percussion Patterns” work after feedback?

A. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

B. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

C. to improve sequence and control

D. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

Artist’s reflection

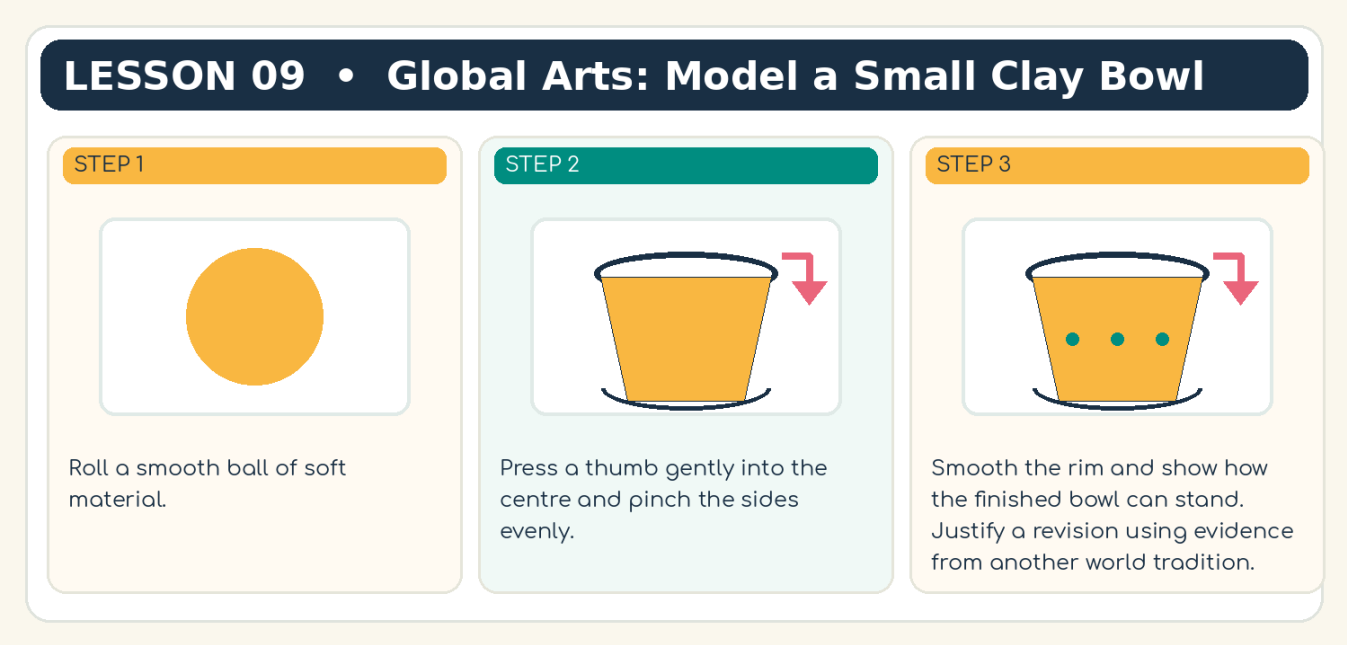

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 09 • Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl

Visual Arts / Make / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will shape a useful object from malleable material. You will create a pinch pot using soft modelling clay or dough and a washable work mat.

Do it in three steps

1. Roll a smooth ball of soft material.
2. Press a thumb gently into the centre and pinch the sides evenly.
3. Smooth the rim and show how the finished bowl can stand. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of volume. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a pinch pot, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Do not eat modelling material; wash hands after use.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a stable pinched bowl and even walls and balance. Also try this: compare the rim before and after smoothing.

PLAY • Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. soft modelling clay or dough and a washable work mat

B. a picture or safe sample of a clay pot, pencil and paper

C. clean scrap paper, glue, cardboard and blunt scissors

D. a short original dialogue and simple safe props

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. Watch or listen carefully without interrupting.

B. Agree on the order of songs, dance or drama items.

C. Roll a smooth ball of soft material.

D. Lay parallel paper strips on a desk as the base.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. a woven paper mat

B. a colour plan

C. a pinch pot

D. a restaged performance

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. visual communication

B. sound

C. presentation

D. volume

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. a stable pinched bowl

B. a labelled pattern sketch

C. a reasoned art observation

D. a steady four-pulse performance

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl”, what is the second step?

A. Press a thumb gently into the centre and pinch the sides evenly.

B. Pass one strip over then under the base strips.

C. Practise lines with clear facial expression and turn-taking.

D. Record one strength in timing, expression or teamwork.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl” activity?

A. Circle the most readable combination and plan where to use it.

B. Perform the pattern twice and check for a steady pulse.

C. Smooth the rim and show how the finished bowl can stand. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

D. Suggest one useful change and say how to rehearse it.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

B. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

C. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

D. Do not eat modelling material; wash hands after use.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. recognise pulse and respectful listening

B. shape a useful object from malleable material

C. appreciate work using evidence

D. communicate ideas through body movement

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. the materials supplier only

B. a person who is never shown the work

C. only the teacher’s desk

D. art group

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. clear purposeful revision

B. steady timing

C. even walls and balance

D. evidence and kindness

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl”?

A. swap roles between performer and audience

B. compare the rim before and after smoothing

C. name one place you see a similar pattern in daily life

D. teach your phrase to one partner without collisions

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl” at Basic 6?

A. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

B. a single invented example with no source

C. international artists and communities around the world

D. one random colour without comparing international works

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a stable pinched bowl, supported by what you noticed or changed

B. a review that ignores the work entirely

C. a guess about volume without checking the finished work

D. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Model a Small Clay Bowl” work after feedback?

A. to improve even walls and balance

B. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

C. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

D. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

Artist’s reflection

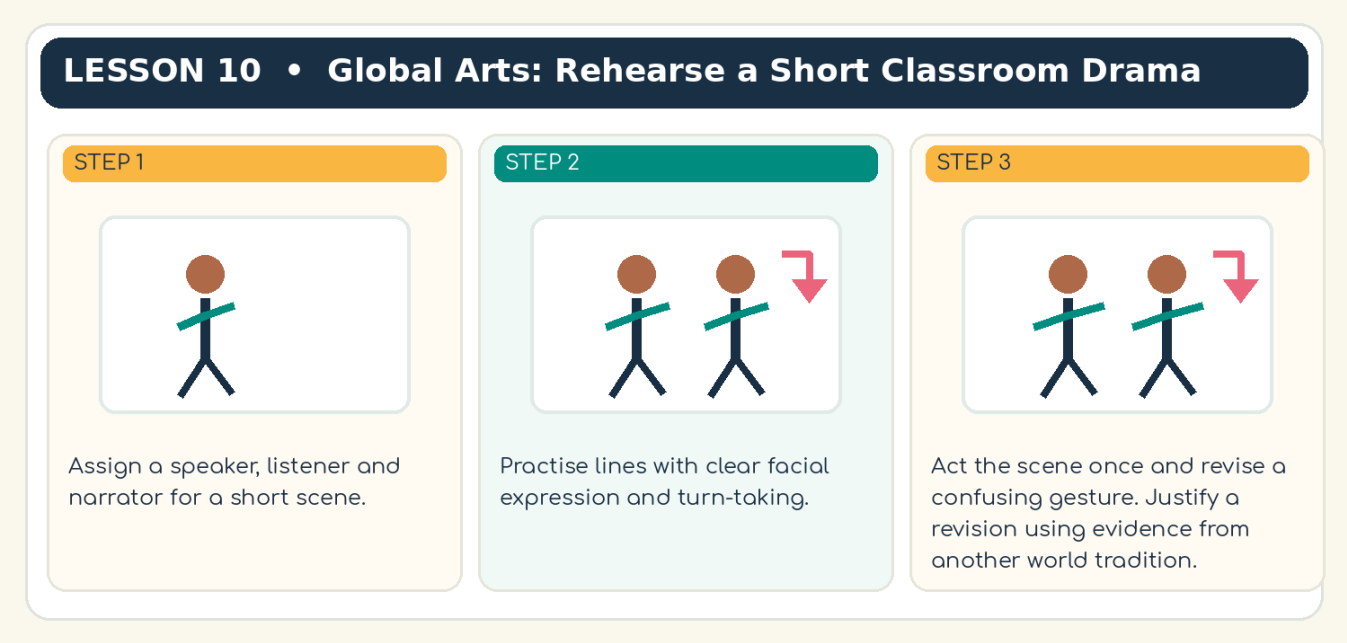

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 10 • Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama

Performing Arts / Make / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will use voice, space and roles to tell a story. You will create a short drama scene using a short original dialogue and simple safe props.

Do it in three steps

1. Assign a speaker, listener and narrator for a short scene.
2. Practise lines with clear facial expression and turn-taking.
3. Act the scene once and revise a confusing gesture. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of drama. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a short drama scene, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Keep props light and never imitate dangerous actions.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a rehearsed scene with understandable roles and clarity and teamwork. Also try this: perform the revised line for a second audience.

PLAY • Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. voice and a short original two-line phrase

B. a short original dialogue and simple safe props

C. hands, a soft drum or a safe plastic container

D. a short community story and an open safe space

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. Agree on the order of songs, dance or drama items.

B. Mark four beat spaces with dots on paper.

C. Assign a speaker, listener and narrator for a short scene.

D. Roll a smooth ball of soft material.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. a silent story

B. an artwork response

C. a rhythmic echo

D. a short drama scene

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. reflection

B. composition

C. colour

D. drama

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. a three-part soundscape

B. a labelled and accessible classroom display

C. an annotated pot drawing

D. a rehearsed scene with understandable roles

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”, what is the second step?

A. Press a thumb gently into the centre and pinch the sides evenly.

B. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit.

C. Invent an easy response of similar length.

D. Practise lines with clear facial expression and turn-taking.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama” activity?

A. Practise taking turns as leader and responding group.

B. Circle the most readable combination and plan where to use it.

C. Show your gesture sequence while a friend identifies the story.

D. Act the scene once and revise a confusing gesture. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

B. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

C. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

D. Keep props light and never imitate dangerous actions.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. use voice, space and roles to tell a story

B. strengthen performance through reflection

C. notice how art can carry cultural meaning

D. compose a simple shared musical phrase

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. the materials supplier only

B. a person who is never shown the work

C. only the teacher’s desk

D. class audience

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. expression and clarity

B. specific respectful feedback

C. clarity and teamwork

D. shape and function

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama”?

A. compare the pattern with a friend’s observation

B. ask classmates what action the poster encourages

C. use feedback to improve one repeat performance

D. perform the revised line for a second audience

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama” at Basic 6?

A. international artists and communities around the world

B. one random colour without comparing international works

C. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

D. a single invented example with no source

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a rehearsed scene with understandable roles, supported by what you noticed or changed

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. a guess about drama without checking the finished work

D. a review that ignores the work entirely

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Rehearse a Short Classroom Drama” work after feedback?

A. to improve clarity and teamwork

B. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

C. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

D. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

Artist’s reflection

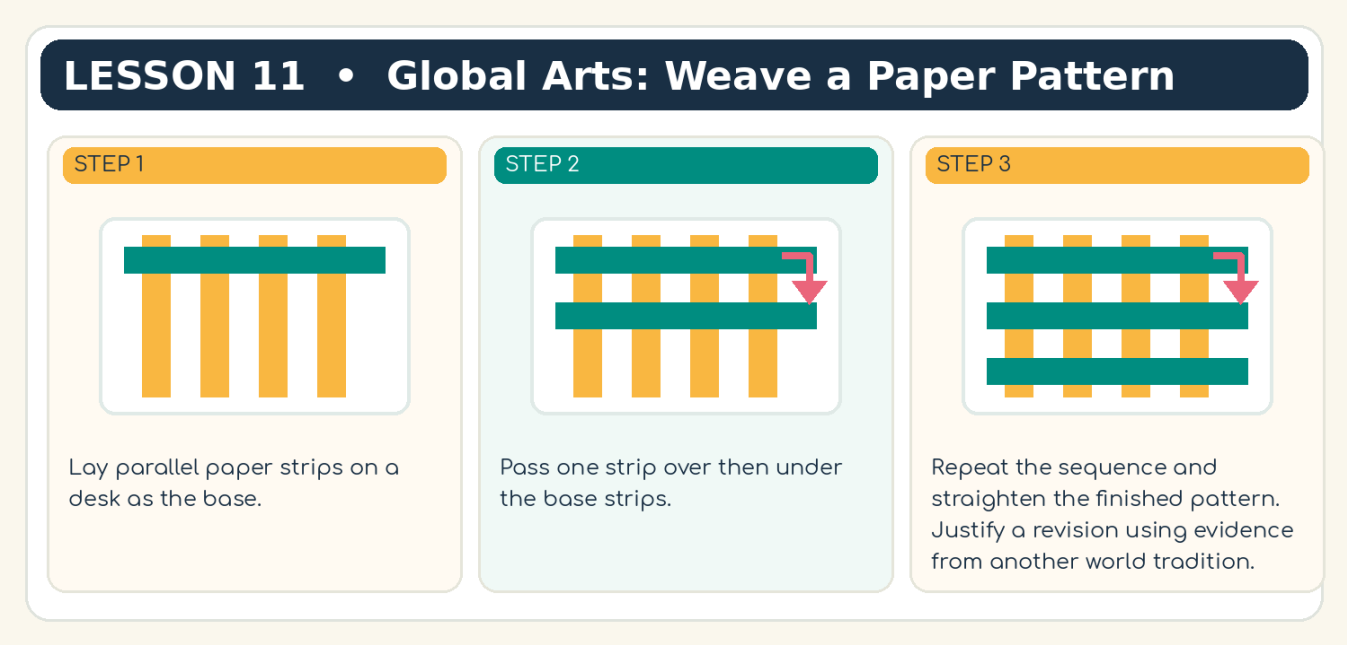

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 11 • Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern

Visual Arts / Make / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will explore repeated structure through weaving. You will create a woven paper mat using two contrasting paper colours and pre-cut strips.

Do it in three steps

1. Lay parallel paper strips on a desk as the base.
2. Pass one strip over then under the base strips.
3. Repeat the sequence and straighten the finished pattern. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of repetition. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a woven paper mat, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Use pre-cut strips or blunt scissors with supervision.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for an over-under paper mat and regular pattern. Also try this: name one place you see a similar pattern in daily life.

PLAY • Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. an open space and a gentle drum pulse

B. two contrasting paper colours and pre-cut strips

C. voice, clapping and safe non-breakable sound makers

D. one displayed artwork and an observation note

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. Agree on the order of songs, dance or drama items.

B. Choose a character and identify one important action.

C. Observe the pot rim, body, base and any decoration.

D. Lay parallel paper strips on a desk as the base.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. a motif study

B. a restaged performance

C. a two-part song plan

D. a woven paper mat

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. repetition

B. colour

C. pulse

D. appreciation

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. an over-under paper mat

B. a three-part soundscape

C. a steady four-pulse performance

D. a three-gesture story

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern”, what is the second step?

A. Choose one change that supports the artwork’s purpose.

B. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit.

C. Pass one strip over then under the base strips.

D. Assign each sound to a gentle vocal or body action.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern” activity?

A. Perform the pulse with a partner, starting and stopping together.

B. Suggest one useful change and say how to rehearse it.

C. Add one personal variation and explain what it represents.

D. Repeat the sequence and straighten the finished pattern. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

B. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

C. Use pre-cut strips or blunt scissors with supervision.

D. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. strengthen performance through reflection

B. compose a simple shared musical phrase

C. recognise pulse and respectful listening

D. explore repeated structure through weaving

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. gallery visitors

B. a person who is never shown the work

C. the materials supplier only

D. only the teacher’s desk

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. sequence and control

B. regular pattern

C. message and readability

D. organisation and respect

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern”?

A. name one place you see a similar pattern in daily life

B. compare narrow and wide pot openings

C. invite a partner to lead the next four beats

D. record group decisions in a simple rehearsal journal

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern” at Basic 6?

A. international artists and communities around the world

B. a single invented example with no source

C. one random colour without comparing international works

D. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

B. an over-under paper mat, supported by what you noticed or changed

C. a review that ignores the work entirely

D. a guess about repetition without checking the finished work

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Weave a Paper Pattern” work after feedback?

A. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

B. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

C. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

D. to improve regular pattern

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 12 • Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase

Performing Arts / Make / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will coordinate movement with music. You will create a short dance composition using an open space and a gentle drum pulse.

Do it in three steps

1. Choose two safe steps that suit the chosen rhythm.
2. Connect them with a pause and a change of direction.
3. Perform the phrase twice with control and enough personal space. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of movement. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a short dance composition, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Never force a jump, spin or movement that causes pain.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a repeatable dance phrase and timing and safe space. Also try this: teach your phrase to one partner without collisions.

PLAY • Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. voice, clapping and safe non-breakable sound makers

B. completed learner artworks, labels and removable tape

C. a first draft, feedback note and drawing materials

D. an open space and a gentle drum pulse

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. Choose two safe steps that suit the chosen rhythm.

B. Mark four beat spaces with dots on paper.

C. Look at a cloth pattern and point to its repeated marks.

D. List three sounds heard in the chosen setting.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. a rhythmic echo

B. a two-part song plan

C. a restaged performance

D. a short dance composition

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. movement

B. volume

C. rhythm

D. presentation

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. a repeatable beat grid and performance

B. a coordinated class performance

C. a repeatable dance phrase

D. a labelled and accessible classroom display

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”, what is the second step?

A. Rehearse a concrete change as a group.

B. Connect them with a pause and a change of direction.

C. Draw a bold image that supports the message.

D. Say which details help communicate the artist’s idea.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase” activity?

A. Practise taking turns as leader and responding group.

B. Perform the phrase twice with control and enough personal space. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

C. Circle the most readable combination and plan where to use it.

D. Guide visitors to observe one artwork and ask a respectful question.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

B. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

C. Never force a jump, spin or movement that causes pain.

D. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. strengthen performance through reflection

B. share artworks with an audience

C. coordinate movement with music

D. use voice, space and roles to tell a story

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. a person who is never shown the work

B. class audience

C. the materials supplier only

D. only the teacher’s desk

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. composition and care

B. timing and safe space

C. organisation and respect

D. message and readability

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase”?

A. ask classmates what action the poster encourages

B. compare two interpretations with evidence

C. teach your phrase to one partner without collisions

D. compare the rim before and after smoothing

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase” at Basic 6?

A. one random colour without comparing international works

B. a single invented example with no source

C. international artists and communities around the world

D. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a review that ignores the work entirely

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. a repeatable dance phrase, supported by what you noticed or changed

D. a guess about movement without checking the finished work

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Create a Safe Dance Phrase” work after feedback?

A. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

B. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

C. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

D. to improve timing and safe space

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 13 • Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster

Visual Arts / Make / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will use art to communicate a helpful message. You will create a public message poster using paper, pencils, coloured pencils and a ruler.

Do it in three steps

1. Choose one clear message about a community need.
2. Draw a bold image that supports the message.
3. Add a few large readable words and check the layout. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of visual communication. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a public message poster, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Use fictional names and do not display anyone’s private information.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a readable community poster and message and readability. Also try this: ask classmates what action the poster encourages.

PLAY • Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. completed learner artworks, labels and removable tape

B. paper, pencils, coloured pencils and a ruler

C. two contrasting paper colours and pre-cut strips

D. an open space and a gentle drum pulse

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. Choose one clear message about a community need.

B. Choose finished works and give each a title label.

C. Describe visible lines, colours, textures and shapes.

D. List three sounds heard in the chosen setting.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. a short drama scene

B. a restaged performance

C. a public message poster

D. a mini exhibition

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. call and response

B. staging

C. visual communication

D. composition

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. a balanced performance review

B. a readable community poster

C. a labelled and accessible classroom display

D. a three-part soundscape

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster”, what is the second step?

A. Try three gestures that communicate the action without words.

B. Press a thumb gently into the centre and pinch the sides evenly.

C. Choose one change that supports the artwork’s purpose.

D. Draw a bold image that supports the message.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster” activity?

A. Perform the sounds in order to represent morning, afternoon or evening.

B. Smooth the rim and show how the finished bowl can stand.

C. Add a few large readable words and check the layout. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

D. Show your gesture sequence while a friend identifies the story.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

B. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

C. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

D. Use fictional names and do not display anyone’s private information.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. coordinate movement with music

B. connect the form of a useful object to its function

C. use art to communicate a helpful message

D. present performance work as a team

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. a person who is never shown the work

B. only the teacher’s desk

C. the materials supplier only

D. school community

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. message and readability

B. sequence and expression

C. organisation and respect

D. clear turns

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster”?

A. teach your phrase to one partner without collisions

B. ask classmates what action the poster encourages

C. name one place you see a similar pattern in daily life

D. let a second group test whether the response is easy to learn

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster” at Basic 6?

A. international artists and communities around the world

B. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

C. a single invented example with no source

D. one random colour without comparing international works

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a guess about visual communication without checking the finished work

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. a readable community poster, supported by what you noticed or changed

D. a review that ignores the work entirely

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Design a Community-Care Poster” work after feedback?

A. to improve message and readability

B. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

C. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

D. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

Artist’s reflection

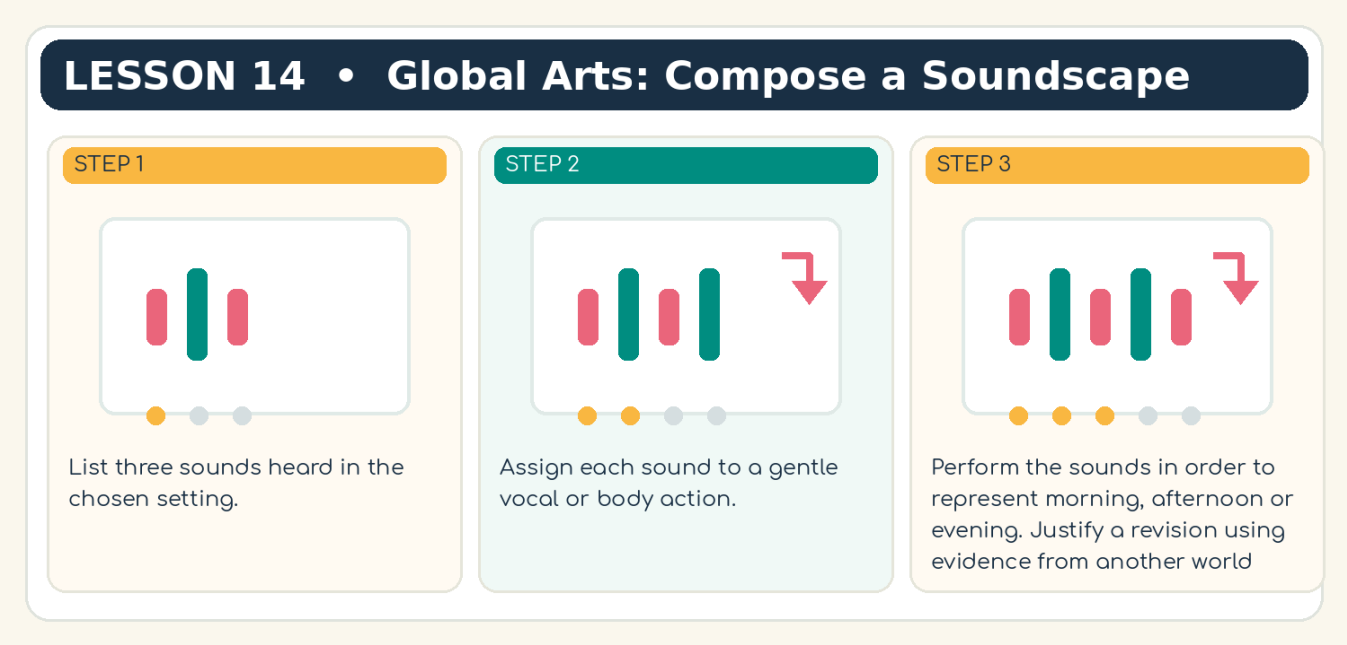

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 14 • Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape

Performing Arts / Make / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will represent a place through organised sounds. You will create a sound story using voice, clapping and safe non-breakable sound makers.

Do it in three steps

1. List three sounds heard in the chosen setting.
2. Assign each sound to a gentle vocal or body action.
3. Perform the sounds in order to represent morning, afternoon or evening. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of sound. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a sound story, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Avoid loud noises, glass objects and dangerous equipment.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a three-part soundscape and sequence and expression. Also try this: invite peers to guess the setting from the sounds.

PLAY • Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. voice, clapping and safe non-breakable sound makers

B. one displayed artwork and an observation note

C. hands, a soft drum or a safe plastic container

D. a patterned fabric scrap, paper and crayons

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. Choose finished works and give each a title label.

B. Write or say a short call about caring for people or places.

C. List three sounds heard in the chosen setting.

D. Read or listen to one helpful comment on the draft.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. a performance showcase

B. a short dance composition

C. a functional pot sketch

D. a sound story

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. movement

B. sound

C. appreciation

D. reflection

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. a three-part soundscape

B. a labelled colour test

C. an annotated pot drawing

D. a coordinated class performance

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape”, what is the second step?

A. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit.

B. Connect them with a pause and a change of direction.

C. Practise lines with clear facial expression and turn-taking.

D. Assign each sound to a gentle vocal or body action.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape” activity?

A. Present the item and thank the audience at the end.

B. Show your gesture sequence while a friend identifies the story.

C. Perform the phrase twice with control and enough personal space.

D. Perform the sounds in order to represent morning, afternoon or evening. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

B. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

C. Avoid loud noises, glass objects and dangerous equipment.

D. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. represent a place through organised sounds

B. use voice, space and roles to tell a story

C. use art to communicate a helpful message

D. connect the form of a useful object to its function

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. a person who is never shown the work

B. class audience

C. only the teacher’s desk

D. the materials supplier only

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. sequence and control

B. sequence and expression

C. organisation and respect

D. shape and function

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape”?

A. invite peers to guess the setting from the sounds

B. compare narrow and wide pot openings

C. assign two pupils the role of hosts

D. compare the pattern with a friend’s observation

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape” at Basic 6?

A. one random colour without comparing international works

B. international artists and communities around the world

C. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

D. a single invented example with no source

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

B. a guess about sound without checking the finished work

C. a review that ignores the work entirely

D. a three-part soundscape, supported by what you noticed or changed

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Compose a Soundscape” work after feedback?

A. to improve sequence and expression

B. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

C. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

D. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

Artist’s reflection

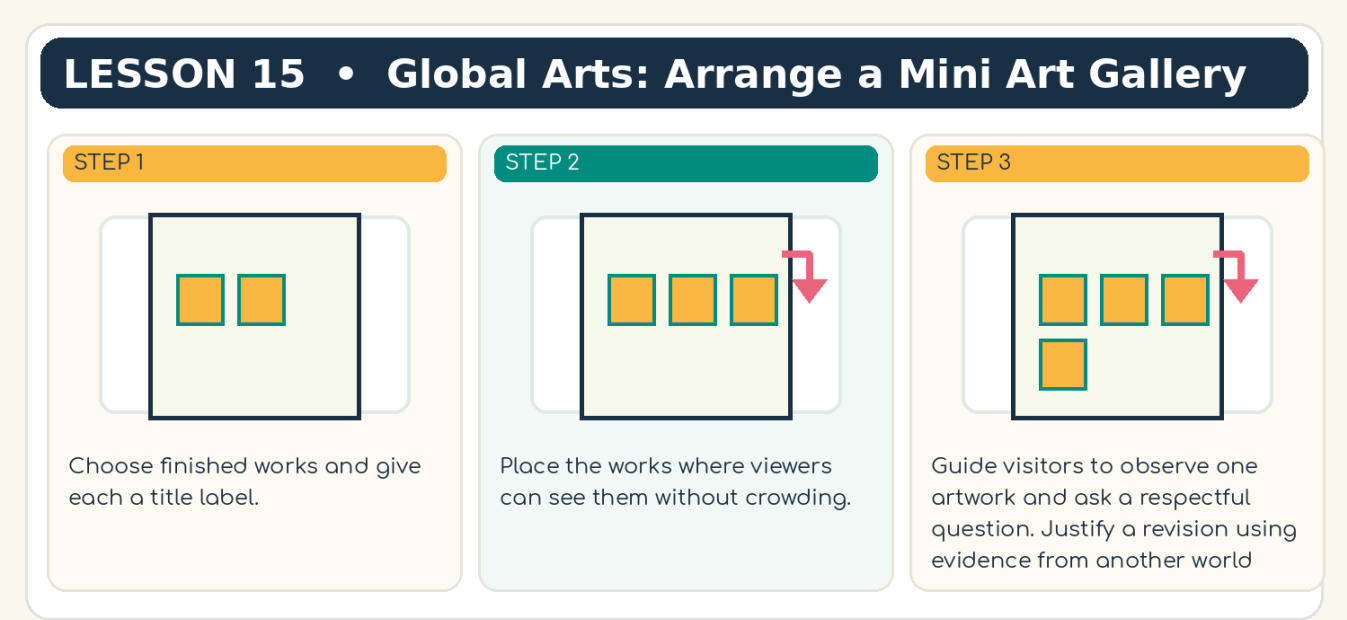

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 15 • Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery

Visual Arts / Display / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will share artworks with an audience. You will create a mini exhibition using completed learner artworks, labels and removable tape.

Do it in three steps

1. Choose finished works and give each a title label.
2. Place the works where viewers can see them without crowding.
3. Guide visitors to observe one artwork and ask a respectful question. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of presentation. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a mini exhibition, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Do not hang work near exits or use unsafe climbing equipment.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a labelled and accessible classroom display and organisation and care. Also try this: invite a classmate to describe a favourite visible detail.

PLAY • Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. a short original dialogue and simple safe props

B. paper, pencils, coloured pencils and a ruler

C. a first draft, feedback note and drawing materials

D. completed learner artworks, labels and removable tape

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. Sort clean paper by colour and select pieces for your picture.

B. Mark four beat spaces with dots on paper.

C. Choose finished works and give each a title label.

D. Choose two safe steps that suit the chosen rhythm.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. a mini exhibition

B. a public message poster

C. a functional pot sketch

D. a short drama scene

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. reflection

B. staging

C. presentation

D. visual communication

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. a labelled and accessible classroom display

B. a rehearsed scene with understandable roles

C. an over-under paper mat

D. an annotated pot drawing

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”, what is the second step?

A. Say which details help communicate the artist’s idea.

B. Rehearse a concrete change as a group.

C. Place the works where viewers can see them without crowding.

D. Practise lines with clear facial expression and turn-taking.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery” activity?

A. Repeat the sequence and straighten the finished pattern.

B. Show your gesture sequence while a friend identifies the story.

C. Perform the pulse with a partner, starting and stopping together.

D. Guide visitors to observe one artwork and ask a respectful question. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. Do not hang work near exits or use unsafe climbing equipment.

B. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

C. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

D. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. notice how art can carry cultural meaning

B. build and repeat a rhythmic pattern

C. share artworks with an audience

D. communicate ideas through body movement

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. only the teacher’s desk

B. gallery visitors

C. the materials supplier only

D. a person who is never shown the work

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. composition and care

B. shape and function

C. organisation and care

D. steady timing

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery”?

A. ask classmates what action the poster encourages

B. invite a classmate to describe a favourite visible detail

C. invite the original reviewer to compare the two versions

D. compare two interpretations with evidence

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery” at Basic 6?

A. a single invented example with no source

B. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

C. international artists and communities around the world

D. one random colour without comparing international works

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a review that ignores the work entirely

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. a labelled and accessible classroom display, supported by what you noticed or changed

D. a guess about presentation without checking the finished work

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Arrange a Mini Art Gallery” work after feedback?

A. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

B. to improve organisation and care

C. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

D. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

Artist’s reflection

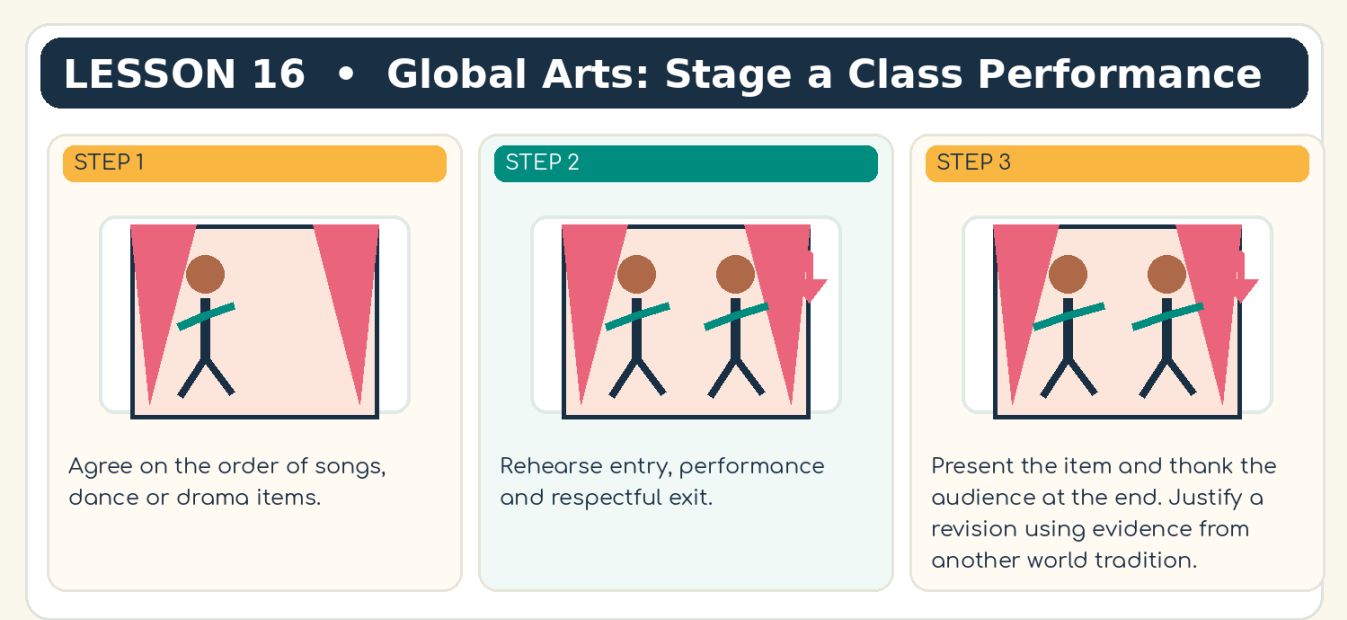

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 16 • Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance

Performing Arts / Display / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will present performance work as a team. You will create a performance showcase using a class composition, simple programme and safe stage area.

Do it in three steps

1. Agree on the order of songs, dance or drama items.
2. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit.
3. Present the item and thank the audience at the end. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of staging. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a performance showcase, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Check floor space, sound levels and exit paths.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a coordinated class performance and organisation and respect. Also try this: assign two pupils the role of hosts.

PLAY • Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. a first draft, feedback note and drawing materials

B. voice, clapping and safe non-breakable sound makers

C. paper, pencils, coloured pencils and a ruler

D. a class composition, simple programme and safe stage area

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. Choose two safe steps that suit the chosen rhythm.

B. Roll a smooth ball of soft material.

C. Agree on the order of songs, dance or drama items.

D. Choose a character and identify one important action.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. a silent story

B. a performance showcase

C. a body-percussion pattern

D. a motif study

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. movement

B. pulse

C. staging

D. presentation

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. a labelled colour test

B. a balanced performance review

C. a reasoned art observation

D. a coordinated class performance

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance”, what is the second step?

A. Practise lines with clear facial expression and turn-taking.

B. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit.

C. Try three gestures that communicate the action without words.

D. Draw the outline using simple curved lines.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance” activity?

A. Stick the pieces down and explain the main image.

B. Give one evidence-based compliment and one possible improvement.

C. Present the item and thank the audience at the end. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

D. Perform the sounds in order to represent morning, afternoon or evening.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. Check floor space, sound levels and exit paths.

B. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

C. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

D. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. present performance work as a team

B. connect the form of a useful object to its function

C. strengthen performance through reflection

D. reuse materials while arranging an image

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. only the teacher’s desk

B. a person who is never shown the work

C. the materials supplier only

D. invited audience

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. steady timing

B. organisation and respect

C. sequence and control

D. contrast and choice

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance”?

A. perform the revised line for a second audience

B. assign two pupils the role of hosts

C. compare narrow and wide pot openings

D. invite peers to guess the setting from the sounds

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance” at Basic 6?

A. international artists and communities around the world

B. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

C. one random colour without comparing international works

D. a single invented example with no source

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a review that ignores the work entirely

B. a guess about staging without checking the finished work

C. a coordinated class performance, supported by what you noticed or changed

D. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Stage a Class Performance” work after feedback?

A. to improve organisation and respect

B. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

C. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

D. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

Artist’s reflection

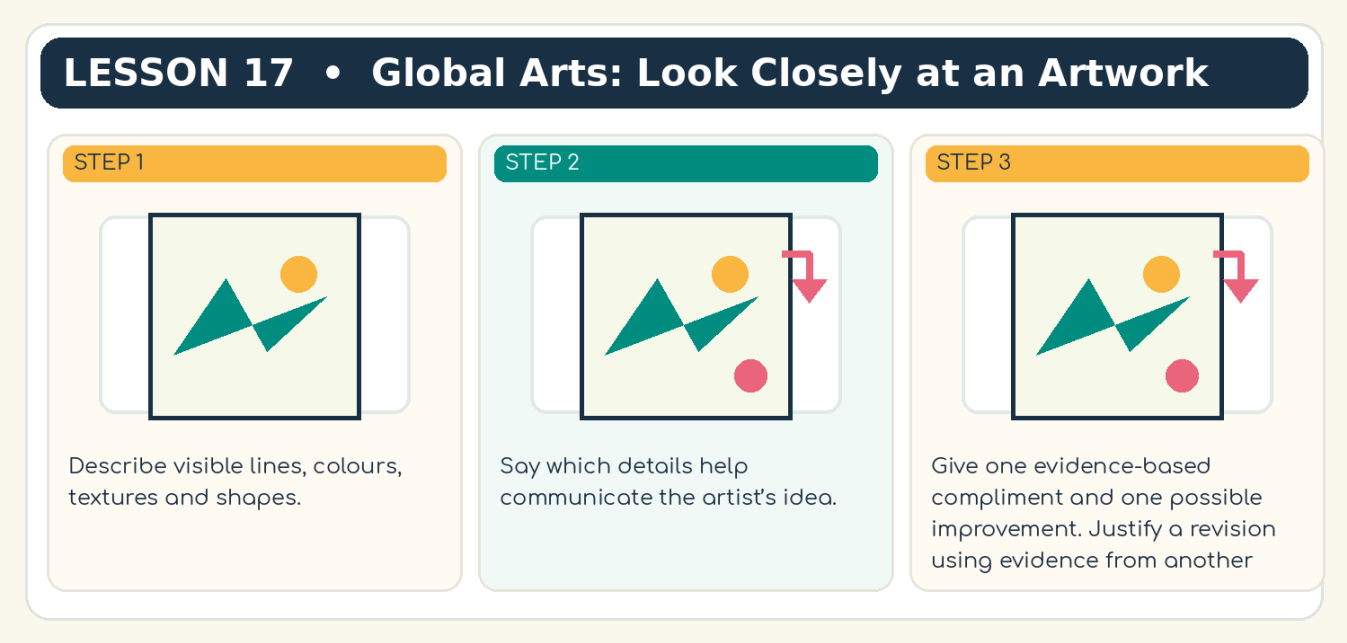

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 17 • Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork

Visual Arts / Appraise / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will appreciate work using evidence. You will create an artwork response using one displayed artwork and an observation note.

Do it in three steps

1. Describe visible lines, colours, textures and shapes.
2. Say which details help communicate the artist's idea.
3. Give one evidence-based compliment and one possible improvement. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of appreciation. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original an artwork response, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Discuss the artwork kindly, not the learner's personal traits.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a reasoned art observation and specific respectful feedback. Also try this: compare two interpretations with evidence.

PLAY • Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. voice, clapping and safe non-breakable sound makers

B. two contrasting paper colours and pre-cut strips

C. clean scrap paper, glue, cardboard and blunt scissors

D. one displayed artwork and an observation note

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. Sort clean paper by colour and select pieces for your picture.

B. Lay parallel paper strips on a desk as the base.

C. Describe visible lines, colours, textures and shapes.

D. Choose three colours that suit your chosen message.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. a recycled collage

B. an artwork response

C. a restaged performance

D. a functional pot sketch

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. pulse

B. call and response

C. appreciation

D. movement

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. an annotated pot drawing

B. a rehearsed scene with understandable roles

C. a reasoned art observation

D. a three-part soundscape

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork”, what is the second step?

A. Say which details help communicate the artist’s idea.

B. Rehearse entry, performance and respectful exit.

C. Pass one strip over then under the base strips.

D. Choose one change that supports the artwork’s purpose.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork” activity?

A. Restage the piece and explain the difference between the two versions.

B. Perform the pattern twice and check for a steady pulse.

C. Give one evidence-based compliment and one possible improvement. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

D. Repeat the sequence and straighten the finished pattern.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

B. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

C. Discuss the artwork kindly, not the learner’s personal traits.

D. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. present performance work as a team

B. appreciate work using evidence

C. recognise pulse and respectful listening

D. shape a useful object from malleable material

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. only the teacher’s desk

B. artist and classmates

C. the materials supplier only

D. a person who is never shown the work

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. shape and function

B. specific respectful feedback

C. even walls and balance

D. organisation and care

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork”?

A. ask classmates what action the poster encourages

B. compare narrow and wide pot openings

C. name one place you see a similar pattern in daily life

D. compare two interpretations with evidence

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork” at Basic 6?

A. one random colour without comparing international works

B. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

C. a single invented example with no source

D. international artists and communities around the world

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

B. a review that ignores the work entirely

C. a reasoned art observation, supported by what you noticed or changed

D. a guess about appreciation without checking the finished work

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Look Closely at an Artwork” work after feedback?

A. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

B. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

C. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

D. to improve specific respectful feedback

Artist’s reflection

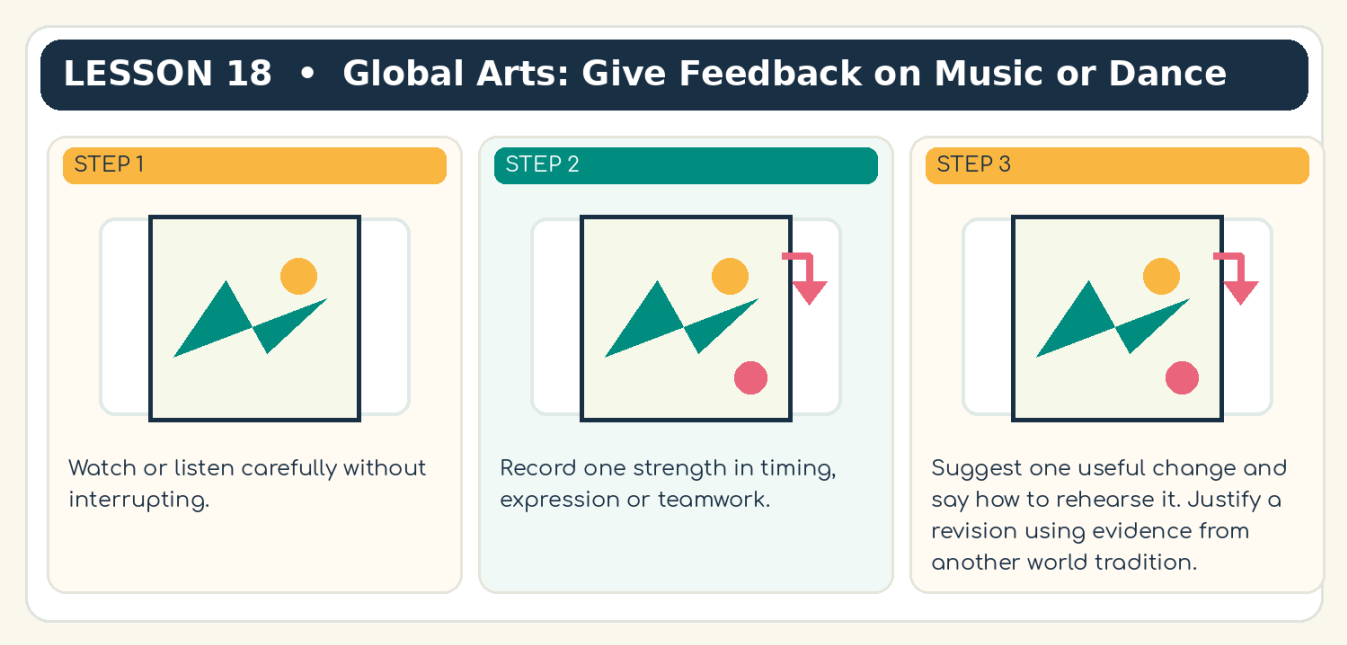

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 18 • Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance

Performing Arts / Appraise / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will use evidence to discuss a performance. You will create a short feedback note using one short class performance and a two-column note.

Do it in three steps

1. Watch or listen carefully without interrupting.
2. Record one strength in timing, expression or teamwork.
3. Suggest one useful change and say how to rehearse it. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of performance appraisal. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a short feedback note, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Respond respectfully and avoid personal insults.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a balanced performance review and evidence and kindness. Also try this: use feedback to improve one repeat performance.

PLAY • Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. paper, pencils, coloured pencils and a ruler

B. one short class performance and a two-column note

C. two contrasting paper colours and pre-cut strips

D. hands, a soft drum or a safe plastic container

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. Assign a speaker, listener and narrator for a short scene.

B. Roll a smooth ball of soft material.

C. Read or listen to one helpful comment on the draft.

D. Watch or listen carefully without interrupting.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. a rhythmic echo

B. a pinch pot

C. a performance showcase

D. a short feedback note

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. composition

B. sound

C. pattern

D. performance appraisal

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. a labelled and accessible classroom display

B. a three-gesture story

C. a coordinated class performance

D. a balanced performance review

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”, what is the second step?

A. Record one strength in timing, expression or teamwork.

B. Rehearse a concrete change as a group.

C. Draw a bold image that supports the message.

D. Assign each sound to a gentle vocal or body action.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance” activity?

A. Circle the most readable combination and plan where to use it.

B. Smooth the rim and show how the finished bowl can stand.

C. Make the change and explain how the second version improved.

D. Suggest one useful change and say how to rehearse it. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. Respond respectfully and avoid personal insults.

B. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

C. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

D. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. use art to communicate a helpful message

B. share artworks with an audience

C. use voice, space and roles to tell a story

D. use evidence to discuss a performance

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. performers

B. the materials supplier only

C. only the teacher’s desk

D. a person who is never shown the work

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. steady timing

B. clear purposeful revision

C. evidence and kindness

D. sequence and expression

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance”?

A. use feedback to improve one repeat performance

B. invite a classmate to describe a favourite visible detail

C. compare two interpretations with evidence

D. perform the revised line for a second audience

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance” at Basic 6?

A. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

B. international artists and communities around the world

C. one random colour without comparing international works

D. a single invented example with no source

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a guess about performance appraisal without checking the finished work

B. a review that ignores the work entirely

C. a balanced performance review, supported by what you noticed or changed

D. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Give Feedback on Music or Dance” work after feedback?

A. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

B. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

C. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

D. to improve evidence and kindness

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 19 • Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback

Visual Arts / Appraise / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will revise a work thoughtfully. You will create a revised artwork using a first draft, feedback note and drawing materials.

Do it in three steps

1. Read or listen to one helpful comment on the draft.
2. Choose one change that supports the artwork's purpose.
3. Make the change and explain how the second version improved. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of reflection. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a revised artwork, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Keep the original to show growth; use tools safely.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for a before-and-after artwork comparison and clear purposeful revision. Also try this: invite the original reviewer to compare the two versions.

PLAY • Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. a first draft, feedback note and drawing materials

B. hands, feet and a written beat grid

C. two contrasting paper colours and pre-cut strips

D. hands, a soft drum or a safe plastic container

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. Choose two safe steps that suit the chosen rhythm.

B. Sort clean paper by colour and select pieces for your picture.

C. Read or listen to one helpful comment on the draft.

D. Watch or listen carefully without interrupting.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. a public message poster

B. a short drama scene

C. a revised artwork

D. a mini exhibition

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. gesture

B. reflection

C. colour

D. composition

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. a fixed paper collage

B. a before-and-after artwork comparison

C. a coordinated class performance

D. a reasoned art observation

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”, what is the second step?

A. Sketch two repeated shapes from the cloth onto paper.

B. Connect them with a pause and a change of direction.

C. Invent an easy response of similar length.

D. Choose one change that supports the artwork’s purpose.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback” activity?

A. Make the change and explain how the second version improved. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

B. Suggest one useful change and say how to rehearse it.

C. Circle the most readable combination and plan where to use it.

D. Repeat the sequence and straighten the finished pattern.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

B. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

C. Keep the original to show growth; use tools safely.

D. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. recognise pulse and respectful listening

B. revise a work thoughtfully

C. present performance work as a team

D. represent a place through organised sounds

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. peer reviewer

B. only the teacher’s desk

C. a person who is never shown the work

D. the materials supplier only

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. clear purposeful revision

B. evidence and kindness

C. sequence and control

D. steady timing

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback”?

A. compare the rim before and after smoothing

B. ask a partner to clap the pattern from your grid

C. invite a classmate to describe a favourite visible detail

D. invite the original reviewer to compare the two versions

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback” at Basic 6?

A. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

B. one random colour without comparing international works

C. a single invented example with no source

D. international artists and communities around the world

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a guess about reflection without checking the finished work

B. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

C. a review that ignores the work entirely

D. a before-and-after artwork comparison, supported by what you noticed or changed

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Improve an Artwork with Feedback” work after feedback?

A. to improve clear purposeful revision

B. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

C. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

D. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

Artist’s reflection

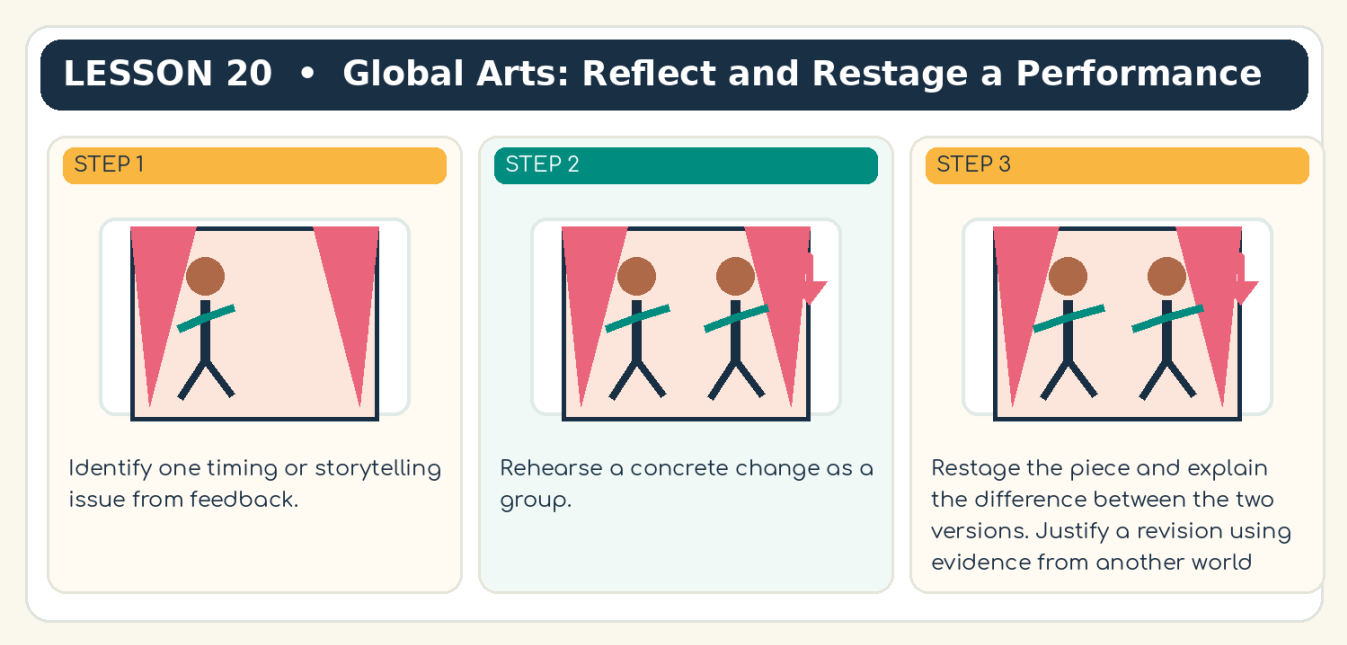

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____

LESSON 20 • Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance

Performing Arts / Appraise / Basic 6

Your mission

Today you will strengthen performance through reflection. You will create a restaged performance using an earlier performance plan and feedback from classmates.

Do it in three steps

1. Identify one timing or storytelling issue from feedback.
2. Rehearse a concrete change as a group.
3. Restage the piece and explain the difference between the two versions. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

Make it meaningful

Look at examples connected with international artists and communities around the world; compare international approaches, plan independently and revise from evidence.

Level-up art task

Compare two international examples of reflection. Prepare a brief design statement explaining sources and cultural respect, develop an original a restaged performance, and revise it after peer critique.

Safety and kindness

Warm up gently and respect each group member’s contribution.

Show what you can do

Your teacher looks for an improved final performance and improvement and cooperation. Also try this: record group decisions in a simple rehearsal journal.

PLAY • Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

1. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which materials are listed for “Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. paper, pencils, coloured pencils and a ruler

B. an earlier performance plan and feedback from classmates

C. crayons, scrap paper and a drawing sheet

D. hands, a soft drum or a safe plastic container

2. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which observation or preparation starts “Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. Read or listen to one helpful comment on the draft.

B. Choose three colours that suit your chosen message.

C. Identify one timing or storytelling issue from feedback.

D. Choose a character and identify one important action.

3. In work about international artists and communities around the world, what will the learner create or perform in “Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. a rhythmic echo

B. a performance showcase

C. a restaged performance

D. a sound story

4. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which artistic element is the main focus of “Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. volume

B. reflection

C. movement

D. staging

5. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which example of work best shows the skill learned in “Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. a repeatable dance phrase

B. an over-under paper mat

C. a steady four-pulse performance

D. an improved final performance

CHALLENGE • Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

6. In work about international artists and communities around the world, after the opening action in “Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance”, what is the second step?

A. Choose claps and thigh taps to fill the beat spaces.

B. Rehearse a concrete change as a group.

C. Invent an easy response of similar length.

D. Place the works where viewers can see them without crowding.

7. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which closing action completes the three-stage “Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance” activity?

A. Circle the most readable combination and plan where to use it.

B. Make the change and explain how the second version improved.

C. Stick the pieces down and explain the main image.

D. Restage the piece and explain the difference between the two versions. Justify a revision using evidence from another world tradition.

8. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which action follows the agreed safety rule while doing “Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. Use materials in a way the class safety instructions forbid.

B. Warm up gently and respect each group member’s contribution.

C. Ignore the agreed safe working space and continue.

D. Borrow tools without checking their condition.

9. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which learning goal best explains why the class practises “Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. compose a simple shared musical phrase

B. recognise pulse and respectful listening

C. strengthen performance through reflection

D. build and repeat a rhythmic pattern

10. In work about international artists and communities around the world, for whom is the finished “Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance” work specifically intended to be shared?

A. a person who is never shown the work

B. the materials supplier only

C. only the teacher’s desk

D. class audience

CHALLENGE — CONTINUE • Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance

Choose the best answer. Discuss why it works after trying the creative activity.

11. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when assessing “Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance”, which quality is named in this lesson?

A. composition and care

B. clarity and teamwork

C. timing and safe space

D. improvement and cooperation

12. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which peer activity helps you reflect or collaborate in “Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance”?

A. record group decisions in a simple rehearsal journal

B. compare narrow and wide pot openings

C. invite a classmate to describe a favourite visible detail

D. swap roles between performer and audience

13. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which cultural or geographic context guides “Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance” at Basic 6?

A. only the teacher’s favourite without evidence

B. one random colour without comparing international works

C. international artists and communities around the world

D. a single invented example with no source

14. In work about international artists and communities around the world, when you explain “Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance” to the class, which evidence from your own work is most useful?

A. a claim about someone else’s art without observing it

B. an improved final performance, supported by what you noticed or changed

C. a review that ignores the work entirely

D. a guess about reflection without checking the finished work

15. In work about international artists and communities around the world, which reason best supports revising your “Global Arts: Reflect and Restage a Performance” work after feedback?

A. Discard useful feedback without comparing the two versions.

B. Change the artwork randomly without explaining why.

C. Ignore the message and change only because it is fashionable.

D. to improve improvement and cooperation

Artist’s reflection

I practised: _____ My next improvement: _____